A PANICKY DAY

Several Failures on Wall Street, New York.

Decline of National Cordage Stock Causes the Crash.

The Calling in of Temporary Loans Aggravates Matters.

Many Rumors of Failures in the Future—Liquidations on a Wholesale Scale—American Stocks Abroad.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Wall street was startled, soon after the opening, by the failure of Henry Allen & Co., a house which, because of its ramifications in Chicago and other Western cities, has commanded a large patronage and exerted an important influence in Chicago. Almost simultaneously with this announcement came the failure of B. L. Smith & Co., and later the suspension of Schuyler Walmen, was made known. All three concerns owe their misfortunes to the remarkable decline in National Cordage stock, on which they were heavily "long" for customers who failed to respond to calls for additional margins.

NATIONAL CORDAGE.

The condition of affairs was aggravated by the calling in of loans by leading trust companies. The shifting rates of loans incidental to the tremendous shrinkage in values forced these institutions to adopt extreme measures. At the office of the National Cordage Company, Appleton Sturgis, counsel of the company, said the raid of the bear element on cordage stock was not warranted by the condition of the company. He said the company has on hand earned cash sufficient to pay dividends for the next year, and the dividends will be paid. There is said to be absolutely no truth in the rumors on the street affecting the financial responsibility of Waterbury, president of the company. He also said that, as far as he knows, none of the principal stockholders in the company are speculators.

The early liquidations were largely in Sugar, General Electric and National Cordage. Afternoon liquidations broke out in new places, more especially in railroad stock. As for industrial stocks, the more the decline the greater seemed to be the inclination to sell. Cordage common, after the Walden failure, dropped to 22, General Electric to 85, Cotton Oil to 38½, Burlington to 85, St. Paul to 71¾, St. Paul preferred to 115, Rock Island to 76½, the losses ranging from 1 to 2 per cent. just before call loans jumped 20 per cent., adding to the general demoralization.

SCENES ON CHANGE.

The scene on the Exchange was very wild. Crowds gathered around the trading posts of active stocks, swung their arms and yelled themselves hoarse in attempts to sell, and brokers and messengers ran as if Satan was after them. Nobody thought of walking, and the gravity of the situation was accented by the pale, anxious faces of the struggling brokers. Three small failures were announced on the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange: F. Beardsley, T. Bradford and J. R. Wilson, whose failure to put up margins caused the suspension of one of the brokerage houses which failed today.

The selling movement in stocks broke out afresh after the delivery hour, and the lowest prices of the day were touched in numerous instances. General Electric, National Cordage and New England were the greatest sufferers. They declined to 79½, 18¾ and 26½ respectively. The market closed feverish and unsettled.

RUMORS OF FURTHER FAILURES.

Throughout the day there were rumors of other failures impending, and the brokers and speculators were kept in a state of trepidation and excitement by the fear of further calamities.

The liquidations were on a wholesale scale, and intense excitement prevailed as the various firms sold for their customers, and a perfect avalanche of stocks came upon the market. The drop in prices was unusual, even during a panic, and denoted the serious straits in which speculators find themselves. The fact that London and Paris bought heavily, and investors here with ample means also took stocks freely, failed to stem the downward current. There are many rumors that other firms will suspend tomorrow.

HENRY CLEWS GIVES GOOD ADVICE.

Henry Clews voiced the feelings of the more conservative Wall street men when he said, today: "There are times that big men's souls as well as their pockets are tried. If the latter are well filled, however, together with a clear head for opportunities afforded for quick movements in the market, it would be good policy to buy good stocks hereafter on pronounced breaks for fair profits, which the succeeding rallies are sure to bring. It must be remembered that the prices are now fully as low on an average as those in the Baring panic of 1890. That was a world's panic, while this is but a local one, at any rate, confined within the boundaries of our own country. I am quite of the opinion that today's transactions will eradicate the weak spots, and make a stronger bottom for good stocks than they have had for some time past. Squalls come periodically, and after we get over this one we will be exempt from another for several years to come. This is the experience of the past, and the present upheaval will not be unlike former ones in that respect."

THE SHERMAN ACT.

William Shearer, manager of the Clearing-house Association, regarded the cause of the present depression in the market as the effect of the so-called Sherman Bill, with the accompanying idea that the United States Treasury cannot pay out gold below the hundred million reserve. "The situation as I see it," he continued, "is liquidation as the result of scarce gold and trimming down where trimming can be best done."

HENRY ALLEN & CO.

On behalf of Henry Allen & Co. it was stated this afternoon that the firm had been speculating, but doing a strictly commission business. Yesterday in the slump in values a number of rich customers failed to put up margins and the firm put up $200,000 to protect them. This was to be made good this morning, but was not, so the firm had to assign.

STOCKS IN LONDON.

The New York Post's London special says: "Stocks are very quiet; Americans were inclined to be better toward the close, but some houses refused to act. American affairs are now the center of attention."

NATIONAL CORDAGE COMPANY.

A Couple of Receivers Appointed in New Jersey.

JERSEY CITY (N. J.,) May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Chancellor McGill tonight appointed George W. Loper and E. F. C. Young receivers for the National Cordage Company. The receivers were appointed on the application of counsel for the cordage company. Receiver Loper is treasurer of the company, and Young is president of the First National Bank of Jersey City. The company has about $2,000,000 in bonds and securities to pay off in a few days, and it is unable to meet the demands. The petition for the appointment of the receivers was made for the purpose of protecting the company's property against attachment. The receivers will give $200,000 bonds.

INSURANCE COMPANY EMBARRASSED.

Condition of the State Investment Company of San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The recent rumors as to the questionable financial condition of the State Investment and Insurance Company of San Francisco brought forth the statement tonight from L. P. Drexler, one of the stockholders, that the company's properties will be attached tomorrow by creditors, whose claims are expected to aggregate about $400,000. It has been known for some time that the company was in financial trouble, and that it was unable to maintain satisfactory relations with the other fire insurance companies, with a view to the reinsurance of its risks. The value of its stock has been recently greatly depreciated, and has in a short time dropped from $70 to $30 per share. It was freely offered at that figure this afternoon, but there were no buyers. Secretary Cushing of the company is now in the East, his mission being to secure financial aid, but it is evident he has met with no success.

President Brandon is at San Rafael, and, when seen tonight by a reporter of the Examiner, refused to give definite information about the affairs of the company, but was evidently much distressed and agitated. He admitted that the company was much embarrassed, but hoped for a favorable outcome of its difficulties. Stockholder Drexler seems also to be a creditor, and will probably be active in attempting to close up its affairs.

The cause of the anticipated failure is said to be expensive competition, losses from hazardous risks and the withdrawal of public confidence and the aid of other insurance organizations. The assets of the corporation are about $60,000, and consist largely of its building on Sansome street.

HARRIS'S LAST HOPE GONE.

The Governor Refuses to Interfere in the Case.

The Young Wife-poisoner Receives the News Without Emotion, and Asks for an Interview With His Mother.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SING SING (N. Y.,) May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] This afternoon the following message was received at the prison from Albany: "The Governor will not interfere in Carlyle W. Harris's case." Warden Durston immediately went to notify Harris. As the warden approached the cell Harris arose from his cot. In low, solemn tones, yet with a kindly intonation, the new warden, whom he had never before seen, told the young wife-poisoner of the Governor's refusal to interfere in his behalf. Although the blow must have been a terrible one, Harris, according to the warden, exhibited little emotion. A spasmodic clutch at the bars that shut out life, liberty and all hope of future earthly happiness might have been noticed momentarily, but instantly the young man nerved himself for a reply. "Have I the privilege of seeing my mother again?" he asked, in faltering tones, "before——." Then came a moment of silence that the warden hesitated to break in upon. "Certainly," replied the austere, yet kindly, man. "Then please telegraph her to come and see me as soon as possible," he whispered, and then turned away despairingly. The warden said, on his return to the office, "I have seen a great many men in desperate positions, but never before have I seen a man so cool under like circumstances."

The Relay Race.

FREMONT (O.,) May 4.—The relay bicyclers passed here at 6 o'clock this morning. The roads are improving, and some of the lost time may be made up.

TOLEDO, May 4.—The relay riders reached Perrysburg at 7 o'clock, over sixteen hours late.

GOSHEN (Ind.,) May 4.—The bicycle relay riders arrived at 8:48 tonight, over eighteen hours late.

Frank Van Ness Reinstated.

CHICAGO, May 4.—Frank Van Ness was today reinstated by the Board of Appeals of the American Trotting Association. Van Ness was expelled for entering a horse under an assumed name and out of his class. Van Ness proved that he had merely followed instructions, and that the horse had been entered in the race before he was added to the stable of Van Ness.

LAWS FOR JOHN

Gresham Talks About the Chinese Troubles,

And Incidentally Refers to Gov. Pennoyer of Oregon.

Precautionary Measures Taken by the State Department.

Text of the Order Suspending the Geary Act—Only a Small Number of Oregon Celestials Have Registered.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Secretary Gresham reaffirmed, today, his statement that he sent telegrams to the governors of Western States, asking them to take precautions against violence to Chinamen when the exclusion act takes effect. He did not care to state how many or what governors had been asked to take action, but said the text of the dispatch over his signature that was given out for publication by Gov. Pennoyer of Oregon is correct. The Secretary declined to comment on the answer sent him by Gov. Pennoyer, but said: "The telegrams speak for themselves. I sent a perfectly respectful message to Gov. Pennoyer, and received in reply the dispatch which has been given to the press. Representations were made to the department that violence might be done Chinese subjects when the law went into effect, and the dispatches were sent as precautionary measures. I don't believe there is any prospect of trouble, but the dispatches were sent, nevertheless, to allay apprehension."

CLEVELAND'S FEARS.

The President's Recollection of the Wyoming Riot.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—[Special.] Secretary of State Gresham says the main reason why the State Department so promptly notified Gov. Markham to use all lawful means at his command to prevent an anti-Chinese riot on Friday or Saturday, when the penalties of the Geary Exclusion Act go into force, was due to President Cleveland's vivid recollection of the awful massacre of Chinese at Silver Creek, Wyo., during Cleveland's first administration. At that time several hundred Chinese were slaughtered by infuriated miners. Wyoming had not then been admitted to statehood, and it was, therefore, under the direct jurisdiction of the United States Government. The Chinese government made a vigorous protest, and Secretary Bayard willingly conceded that a liberal indemnity should be paid for the murdered Chinamen. Mr. Cleveland sent a special message to Congress, advising a liberal indemnity; and an appropriation of $100,000 was readily agreed to.

Information in regard to a threatened outbreak reached our Government through the Chinese Legation, and the Acting Secretary was politely notified that the Chinese government would expect the Federal authorities to secure to all Chinamen in this country the protection guaranteed them under existing treaties, and that it would hold the United States Government responsible for any bloodshed or violence that may arise in consequence of any anti-Chinese riot or demonstration.

Reference was made in this connection to the promptness with which the Chinese government suppresses all anti-Christian uprisings in the Chinese kingdom.

WAITING FOR A DECISION.

Text of the Order Suspending the Geary Act.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The text of the order instructing United States officials not to arrest Chinamen who have not registered was telegraphed from the Treasury Department today, and is as follows:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON (D. C.,) May 4.

The time within which the Chinese laborers are required by the act of May 5, 1892, to provide certificates of residence, will expire on the 5th day of the present month, and it is evident from partial reports made to this department by collectors of internal revenue that in some of the States and Territories large numbers of such persons have failed or refused to make application, as required by the law; but until complete reports are received, the names and residences of those who have registered and procured certificates, and who are, therefore, exempt from arrest, cannot be officially known. Collectors of internal revenue and collectors of customs and all customs officers for the United States, therefore, are instructed to refrain from making arrests under the provisions of the sixth section of the act approved May 5, 1892, entitled "An act to prohibit the coming of Chinese persons into the United States," until further orders and instructions from this department.

(Signed) J. G. CARLISLE, Secretary.

The Attorney General supplemented this circular by instructing the United States district attorneys to defer proceedings under the act of May 5, 1892, except under order of the court, until the necessary arrangements for the arrest, imprisonment and deportation of the persons accused can be perfected, of which due notice will be given.

BOGUS CERTIFICATES.

A Gigantic Combination Unearthed in Portland.

PORTLAND (Or.,) May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Collector of the Port Lotan tonight finished his examination of the certificates of the 612 Chinese who arrived yesterday on the steamer Danube from Victoria. Only forty-eight have been allowed to land, and it is probable that not more than one hundred out of the entire number will be permitted to enter this country. Collector Lotan has discovered 188 certificates which bear unmistakable evidence of fraud; and in consequence has telegraped the Treasury Department at Washington for instructions. Pending instructions from the department, no more Chinese will be landed. While the evidence at present is incomplete, it is said that a most gigantic combination to violate the exclusion law has been unearthed, and sensational developments are looked for. Many of the Chinese certificates are signed by reputable citizens of this city, and in addition they bear the seal of a notary public. A number of the persons who acknowledge they signed the certificates deny that they swore to the same before a notary.

GOV. MARKHAM NOTIFIED.

Secretary Gresham Telegraphs His Instructions to California.

SACRAMENTO, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Gov. Markham has received a dispatch from Secretary Gresham stating that apparently reliable reports indicate the danger of violence to Chinese when the Exclusion Act takes effect, and saying that the President earnestly hopes the Governor will employ all lawful means for their protection in California.

Gov. Markham at once telegraphed Revenue Collector Quinn of San Francisco a copy of the telegram, requesting him to keep him informed of anything that may transpire in San Francisco in connection with the threatened trouble. He also telegraphed to Secretary of State Gresham that he would take all due precautions to prevent any trouble here.

SARCASM FROM IDAHO.

Grover's Good Advice Does Not Appear to Be Relished.

BOISE (Idaho,) May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The following correspondence passed between Secretary of State Gresham and Gov. McConnell today:

WASHINGTON (D.C.,) May 4.

Gov. McConnell, Boise, Idaho: Apparently reliable reports indicate the danger of violence to Chinese when the Exclusion Act takes effect, and the President earnestly hopes you will employ all lawful means for their protection in Idaho.

(Signed) W. Q. GRESHAM, Secretary of State.

Gov. McConnell replied:

Your telegram received. I anticipate no trouble. Our people respect the law and bow to its mandate, expecting the Chief Executive to do the same.

(Signed) W. J. MCCONNELL, Governor of Idaho.

Registering in the Northwest.

PORTLAND (Or.,) May 4.—Collector of Internal Revenue Weidler stated today that 1000 Chinamen had registered up to date in his district, comprising Oregon and Washington, and that 14,000 have refused to comply with the law. There has been a large increase since the photographing clause in the regulations was suspended. The collector is awaiting instructions from Washington before he takes any steps to report those unregistered.

PLENTY OF DIAMONDS.

A Couple Arrested in Brooklyn With $80,000 Worth of Jewelry.

BROOKLYN (N. Y.,) May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] A young woman, who within the past few days has pawned between $500 and $600 worth of diamonds and jewelry in this city, was arrested tonight in a Grand street pawnshop. When taken to police headquarters she said her name was Jennie Dalle, and that she lived at No. 92 Berry street. The police went to her home, and on the third floor found a Frenchman, who gave the name of Eugene Leroux, and said he was the woman's husband. The apartment was searched and more than a thousand diamond rings and forty diamond bracelets were found. A jeweler was called in to appraise the find, and said the lot, which is of the first quality, and, in his opinion, of foreign manufacture, is worth about $80,000. He thought the goods had been smuggled into this country, and that the man and woman were agents of some persons extensively engaged in smuggling. Both Leroux and the woman were locked up. The police are still prosecuting the investigation, and expect soon to make further arrests.

TRAIN-WRECKERS.

An Illinois Express Train Has a Narrow Escape.

LIMA (O.,) May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] An attempt was made last night to wreck the west-bound express on the Lake Erie and Western road. There was a heavy shipment of money on the train, and that was what the wreckers were after. At the foot of a grade about three-quarters of a mile west of Paxton, Ill., near a curve, an obstruction of ties spiked together was placed across the track. The express train was behind time, and the right-of-way was given to a second-class passenger train. This train came against the obstruction, and the engine and two coaches were ditched. No one was injured, but the greatest excitement prevailed. A heavy freight train followed the accommodation. A flagman started back, when he was suddenly confronted by the highwaymen with revolvers and compelled to return to the wreck. The brakeman notified the train crew, who started back in a body, and were not molested. After stopping the freight an alarm was sent over the wire to both Paxton and Peoria. Great excitement prevailed at both places, and posses were promptly organized for the purpose of scouring the surrounding country in search of the fugitives, but without result.

The Countess in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Vesta Hastings, notoriously known as the Countess de Henriot, returned last night from Los Angeles, where she has been to square herself with her former love, John Bradbury. She declares that, although her engagement with Bradbury is off, they are still good friends. She leaves for the East in a few days.

Bunco Steerers in Jail.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Gus Sinclair, Robert L. Fay and John Randolph, three notorious bunco steerers are in jail as the result of an extraordinary swindle successfully perpetrated on Gerard Remy of Eureka, by which, they, with several confederates, secured over $1500.

Lincoln Calls at Windsor.

LONDON, May 4.—Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, the retiring United States Minister, traveled to Windsor this afternoon to present his letter of recall to Her Majesty.

ANOTHER BLOW

A Cyclone Cuts a Wide Swath in the South.

Several North Carolina Towns Wrecked and Ruined.

Disastrous Floods Reported Along the Atlantic Coast.

Cracks in Pennsylvania Dams Cause Much Excitement—A Couple of Schooners Wrecked on the Jersey Coast—Floods in Ohio.

By Telegraph to The Times.

RALEIGH (N. C.,) May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] A cyclone struck the town of Oxford, forty miles south of this city, late yesterday afternoon, doing great damage and cut a swath 400 yards wide through the town from the southwest to the northeast. Frame houses were blown down, brick ones unroofed and lighter structures of all kinds destroyed. The town was left in total darkness. The storm was accompanied by rain and hail. The hailstones were unusually large, and fell to a depth of four inches, breaking almost all the windows in the town. A number of people were injured, and one colored man was fatally hurt. The financial loss is estimated at $200,000.

At Greystone, a small railroad station, all the houses were blown down.

At a granite quarry near by, where convicts were at work, a number of them were hurt.

At Henderson the same experience was had as at Oxford, and ten people were injured, four seriously.

There are indications of another blow in this vicinity, but the telegraph wires are down and no particulars are obtainable.

LEWISTON RESERVOIR.

Damage from the Break—The Danger Believed to Be Over.

LEWISTON (O.,) May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The Great Miami River has its source in the Lewiston reservoir, and begins at the wasteway which broke yesterday. The first break took away 100 feet of the wasteway, and the great rush of water carried away a long covered bridge just below. Soon another fifty feet of the wasteway broke, and in a short time the entire country for many miles to the south was inundated for a distance of three miles in width.

Col. Perkins, the chief engineer, was soon on the scene and doing everything that could be done to repair the damage. The estimated loss to the reservoir is $160,000, and the loss to Logan county in displaced bridges and washed-out roads will be $120,000. All the farmers along the river will lose their fences and crops.

PORTSMOUTH (O.,) May 4.—The flood in the Scioto River has reached its limit. The levee at Davis, seven miles above this city, broke this morning. The extent of the damage is unknown.

FLOODS IN THE EAST.

New York and Pennsylvania Visited by Heavy Rains.

NEW YORK, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The heavy rain storm last night and this morning has passed off, but reports from surrounding sections indicate that it left an unpleasant mark. The territory north of Eastern New York was drenched by the heavy rain, and all the streams are swollen above their banks.

The storm raged through Pennsylvania. The town of Shenandoah was greatly excited by the discovery today of large cracks in the dams situated above Kebley Run colliery. The people were alarmed during the forenoon, and immediately commenced to move their goods, and fled to the hills. The colliers along the creek ordered the men out and hoisted the mules.

The streams throughout the Schuylkill coal region are much swollen, and it is feared that work will have to cease at many of the mines. In the Shamokin region most of the collieries ceased work this morning.

Off Atlantic City, a three-masted schooner sank. Nothing is known of the fate of the crew, although it is believed the men managed to reach a boat which happened to be near by.

Trainmen on the Fitchburg road report eleven bad landslides and four washouts. All the wires are down, and no trains have been running since midnight.

Much apprehension is felt along the upper Deerfield Valley about the break in Newton's dam at Reedsboro.

A two-masted schooner went ashore yesterday a mile north of Knob's life-saving station on Blum Island. An attempt at rescue was futile, and soon after the spars fell and with them four men, who are supposed to have been all the men on the boat.

At Rutland, Ct., hardly a dwelling house escaped injury. Blinds, windows, chimneys and roors were destroyed.

More About the World's Fair Music Trouble.

Bribery and Corruption in Director Thomas's Department.

The Evidence Produces a Commotion in the Committee.

The Lady Board of Managers Has a Lively Session, Enlivened by Many Tears—Movements of the Duke.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] From present indications the music trouble at the World's Fair is about to become a scandal. Evidence was produced at today's meeting of the National Committee, which tends to show that Musical Director Thomas is not satisfied with using a contraband piano, but is bent upon boycotting the harps in his department that are made by firms having exhibits at the fair. The evidence was of such a forcible nature that the commission adopted a resolution directing President Palmer to appoint a special committee of six to investigate the matter.

Commissioner Lannon of Utah, brought the matter up this afternoon, stating that he had some interesting evidence which tended to show that there was bribery and in the music department of the fair. He then produced a letter written to Messrs. Lyon & Healy of this city, musical exhibitors, by Miss Breitschuck, one of the members of the Thomas orchestra, stating that she was very sorry she could not use the Lyon & Healy harp which had been tendered her, because Director Thomas had notified the harpists that the Lyon & Healy harp could not be used in his orchestra. Miss Breitschuck expressed great personal sorrow, but stated that there was no going behind orders. Then Commissioner Lannon produced another letter to the same firm from another harpist named Edward Schuecker. This young man stated flatly that if the firm expected him to take any interest in their harps they of $1000 a year and 10 per cent. on every harp sold through his influence. Furthermore, he must have two new harps placed at his disposal. The firm promptly replied, declining to have anything to do with Schuecker, and directing him to return at once the instrument they had tendered him for use in the concert.

The reading of these letters caused a great sensation among the commissioners. Lannon said the matter should be thoroughly investigated, and if the evidence in the letters proved true, the commission should remove Mr. Thomas.

MINORITY REPORT ADOPTED.

The commissioners considered the piano question at length again, and finally adopted the minority report of the Judiciary Committee, offered by Burton of Kansas, declaring that the Council of Administration has no jurisdiction in the piano trouble.

This evening Prof. Wilson, Director Thomas's agent, was seen by an Associated Press reporter regarding the matter. "Mr. Thomas will not talk about the affair," said he. "It is beneath his dignity to notice such trivial things. He is too great a man to even listen to such foolish charges. I will not allow any one to approach him on the subject."

With this, the manager and director entered a carriage and were driven away.

The Council of Administration has decided to put a stop to the exorbitant prices charged by some of the restaurants at the fair. Vigorous action will be taken tomorrow. The Sunday opening question comes up tomorrow.

MUCH WEEPING AND WAILING.

World's Fair Ladies Have a Nice Sociable Time.

CHICAGO, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Mrs. Potter Palmer, president of the Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair, announced at the opening of the meeting of the board this morning that she will be compelled to resign if the ladies do not quit quarreling, and behave in a more dignified manner.

The meeting was very interesting, and many of the members were in tears before it was over. Some of the ladies even cried aloud, and speeches in support of the president were made in broken voices, accompanied by expressions of heartfelt sympathy for Mrs. Palmer. Finally, a resolution supporting the president and thanking her for the noble work she had done was unanimously passed.

A resolution empowering the president to appoint a committee to formulate a plan for a great organization of ladies, of which the president of the Board of Lady Managers is to be the foundation, was adopted, the ladies stating that when their World's Fair work is done they desired to band themselves together to further the interests of their sex.

CHICAGO, May 4.—The Duke and Duchess de Veragua and members of their suite were honored guests at a coaching party this afternoon, which was concluded by a luncheon at Washington Park Club. APPOINTMENT STATISTICS.

The Work of Official Axes Compared in Cold Figures.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The statement prepared from the records of the Postoffice Department shows that during the first two months of the present administration the total number of fourth class postmasters appointed was 3894, against 5104 made during the first two months of Harrison's administration. The number of appointments made during the last two months to fill vacancies caused by resignations and deaths was 2685 as against 1608 made during the corresponding period of the last administration. The number of removals during the last two months is shown to have been 1209, while the number of removals made during the first two months of Harrison's administration reached 3496. The excess of appointments four years ago is therefore 2120 and the excess of removals 2287, while the number of appointments made on account of resignations and death is 1077 more than four years ago.

HYDRAULIC MINING.

The President Appoints the Members of the Commission.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—[Special.] Congressman Caminetti's bill, that became a law at the last session through his earnest efforts, is now to be carried into effect. It was "An act to create a California débris commission and regulate hydraulic mining in the State of California." The President today named as the commission: Col. George H. Mendell, Lieut.-Col. William H. Benyaurd and Maj. W. H. Huer, all of the Engineer Corps.

California Democrats failed today to capture either of the sixteen postmastership plums given out by Mr. Cleveland, or of the 108 smaller offices distributed by Mr. Maxwell.

THE GOLD SITUATION.

The Plan Proposed by Carlisle to New York Bankers.

NEW YORK, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] From a member of one of the leading banking firms of this city a synopsis of the plan proposed by Secretary Carlisle to protect the gold reserve was obtained today. The banker from whom the information was obtained said: "The plan would be for the banks to pay out to their customers and in part in the settlement of their balances an article which they now hoard—gold—which does not involve an involuntary hoarding of greenbacks by the Treasurer, and thus put in active movement a larger part of their present reserve."

C. E. Kibbey, station agent for the Southern Pacific Company at Modesto, boarded the north-bound train this morning for parts unknown. Shortly after the departure of the train a sealed letter left by him was handed to Mrs. Kibbey at the Ross House. He informed the recipient that he had departed. The causes which led to his disappearance are his wife's alleged harsh and cruel treatment and vicious temper.

Since his departure it has been learned that he instructed his attorney to draw up a document for her signature, agreeing to a legal separation. It further provides that he will contribute $40 per month to the support of herself and children, and give them transportation to Los Angeles. In his note to his wife he stated that he would absent himself until such time as the document is signed. Mrs. Kibbey went into hysterics upon receipt of the letter. She says she will not sign the document.

Kibbey and his family formerly lived on Olive street, this city. Kibbey was, for a time, the agent of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company, but when that office was discontinued, entered the service of the Southern Pacific, going to Colton as station agent. He was a quiet, gentlemanly sort of a man, and was regarded as thoroughly competent in his line of work. It was a matter of common notoriety that his domestic relations were unpleasant, and the couple were on the point of separation several times while they lived in this city. The trouble, it was alleged, was caused by Mrs. Kibbey's violent temper. They finally patched up their differences, and left for Colton, since which time nothing has been heard of the family until the publication above alluded to.

Continued Discussion of the German Army Bill.

A Possibility That the Government May Have a Majority.

The Emperor Signs the Rescript, Dissolving the Reichstag.

And if the Bill is Defeated It Will Be Promulgated—Alsatian Deputies Will Oppose It—General Foreign Notes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

BERLIN, May 4.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The discussion of the Army Bill was continued in the Reichstag today. Richter, leader of the Freissinnige party, vigorously denounced the measure and Caprivi upheld it.

Bebel, the Social-Democratic leader, repeated and emphasized the arguments of Richter.

After the debate the Reichstag adjourned and numerous party caucuses were held.

Chancellor von Caprivi went away from the session in good humor, as the seceders from the Freissinnige party continued to vote with Von Huene, and, if he can secure twelve votes from the Center, the Chancellor counts upon a small majority for the bill. On the other hand, the Alsatian deputies have arrived in full force, vowing they will vote against the bill.

At a meeting of the Federal Council today, Chancellor von Caprivi announced that the Emperor had signed the rescript dissolving the Reichstag, and was only awaiting the rejection of the Army Bill to promulgate the rescript.

The Vossische Zeitung states that at a meeting yesterday of the Freissinnige party it was resolved to offer solid opposition to the compromise Army Bill as entered into between Caprivi and Von Huene.

LONDON, May 4.—The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says: "Only a miracle can now save the Army Bill, since the Alsatians have decided to oppose it."

CUBAN INSURRECTION.

News of the Surrender Received With Joy at Madrid.

MADRID, May 4.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The news received here from Havana yesterday that the chief of the Cuban rebels had surrendered was received with expressions of profound relief in political and financial circles. Spanish funds rallied 1 per cent. today, and Cuban stocks 4 per cent.

Official dispatches continue to represent the separatist movement as completely checked. The authorities continue to observe every precaution for checking any renewal of hostilities from Key West or San Domingo, where the exiles are still blustering and threatening.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Secretary Gresham has received a letter from the United States Consul-General at Havana, dated April 29, forwarding a copy of a proclamation issued on April 28 by the Governor-General of Cuba, declaring the province of Santiago de Cuba in a state of siege. The Consul-General says that, according to the newspapers, the revolutionists number about one hundred persons, while rumors give the number all the way from five hundred to seven hundred men.

Secretary Gresham said this morning that no telegrams have come to him today, and that he is not advised of the reported surrender of the insurgent bands.

No report of any contemplated filibustering expedition has been received from the commander of the revenue cutter McLane, which is now stationed off the Florida coast, and it is therefore inferred by revenue marine officials that no filibustering movement has ever been in serious contemplation, the dispatches from Key West to the contrary notwithstanding.

COURT OF ARBITRATION.

Mr. Coudert Continues His Argument for the United States.

PARIS, May 4.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] F. R. Coudert continued his argument in behalf of the United States today before the Bering Sea tribunal of arbitration. In response to a question, Coudert said: "Copper Island seals caught by pelagic sealers come to the market as having been caught in Japan." The British counsel exclaimed in chorus: "That is quite wrong." Coudert answered: "We have ample proof that it is true. We have proof also that three-fourths of the total number of skins sold are those of females."

DIED IN A PRISON CELL.

A Former Angeleno Drinks Himself to Death in Oakland.

The Oakland Times of recent date publishes the following:

About midnight last night James S. Hunt was brought into the City Prison and charged with drunkenness. Thirty minutes later he was dead.

His death is a very mysterious one, but probably resulted from alcoholism.

About 11:30 o'clock last night three young men reported at the City Prison that a man was lying on the edge of the lake near Thirteenth street either dead, drunk, or sick. Officer Mackey at once started for the place on the patrol wagon, and on the way he picked up Officers White and Josephs. When they arrived at the place they found a man lying by the side of the fence which runs along the edge of the lake, at the head of Thirteenth street.

He was unconscious. By his side were two bottles, one a small flask and the other a black wine bottle. Both smelt strong of whisky and both were empty.

His pockets were turned inside out and his pocketbook lying on the grass a short distance away. There were no marks of violence on him and no sign of there having been any struggle.

He was removed to the City Prison. The officers came to the conclusion that he was only dead drunk, as he was warm and breathing, and placed him in a cell. He was made as comfortable as possible, and, to make sure, Dr. Dunn was sent for. When he arrived the man was dead.

He was immediately removed to the morgue, where some letters containing several New York Mutual Life Insurance policies were found in his pocket addressed to James S. Hunt, No. 304 Tenth street. Nothing of any value was found on him.

Hunt has roomed at the house of Thomas Reeves, with H. B. Rush, for over a year.

"Mr. Hunt told me some time ago," said Mr. Rush, "that if he ever went on another big drunk he knew that it would kill him. A few days ago he went to San Francisco and met some old friends, and I guess drank considerable liquor. He has been complaining of his stomach, and said he thought that if he went on a big drunk it would cure him.

"Some years ago he owned property in Los Angeles, on the corner of Grand avenue and Seventh street, now worth $200,000. He was divorced from his wife, and the property was sold. He invested in a mine in Montana, near North Fork, and lost everything.

"He was going up there Monday as the foreman in a new mine, and expected $200. I don't know whether he got it or not."

Patents Granted.

A Washington special says among the patents issued to residents of the Pacific Coast on May 2 were the following for Southern California:

During the month there were nineteen cloudy days.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Jumping Onto an Esteemed Contemporary.

LOS ANGELES, May 3, 1893.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] About three weeks ago an editorial appeared in the columns of the Herald, which, among other items of news, stated that John D. Spreckels shot M. H. de Young, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle. That is about as near as the Herald usually comes to anything.

I call your attention to this fact, hoping you will stir up your worthy (?) contemporary, for on the day that article appeared I wrote to the Herald informing the editor that the party who shot at M. H. de Young was Adolph Spreckels, and not J. D., as the Herald stated.

We all make mistakes, but darn an editor who will not correct a mistake when he accuses the wrong man of an attempt to commit murder. Yours truly,

SAN FRANCISCAN.

QUICKER THAN ELECTROCUTION.

How Nineteen Chinese Pirates Were Recently Beheaded in Six Minutes.

Not long ago, on the Chinese coast, says a correspondent of the London Daily Graphic, a foreign vessel, the Namoa, was boarded by a band of pirates. Having got on board in the darkness, they murdered the captain and threw him overboard, then secured the other officers and passengers, completely looted the ship and managed to get safely away with their booty. The matter becoming known, the Chinese authorities at once took steps to discover and arrest the marauders, and in due course the whole band of nineteen were captured and summarily condemned to be beheaded. The ghastly scene of the carrying out of the sentence took place at Kowloon, near Hong Kong. The doomed men were drawn up in a line, on their knees, with their hands tied behind them, and at a distance of about five yards from each other. So they awaited the executioner's sword. It was suggestive of the executioner's skill, born, no doubt, of constant practice, that the whole nineteen were beheaded within six minutes. A bold-looking villain was the chief of the gang. He died, as nearly all the Chinese do under such circumstances, apparently without the least fear. In fact, just before his head rolled to the ground he declared aloud, defiantly, that if it were possible for him to commit another murder he should not hesitate to do it. It happens often when a Chinese criminal is sentenced to be decapitated that his friends supply him with a little opium, which, possibly, mercifully produces a stupor and renders the doomed wretch partially insensible to his horrible position. The final scene is enacted thus: When everything is ready the executioner's assistant seizes the long pigtail of the condemned man, and at one blow with his long, sharp sword his chief sweeps the head off.

Broad nails belong to gentle, nervous, bashful people.

A long liver line shows an excellent natural constitution.

Oblique nails are an indication of deceit and cowardice.

A heart line pale and broad shows a heartless debauchee.

THE COURTS.

Motion for a New Trial in the Bentley Case.

The Matter Argued at Length Before Judge Smith.

The Grounds on Which a New Trial is Asked.

Misconduct on the Part of the Jury and the Discovery of New Evidence Among the Allegations—Court Notes.

A session of Department One of the Superior Court was held last evening, with Judge Smith presiding, for the purpose of hearing motions and arguments for a new trial of the Bentley murder case.

There was not a large crowd in attendance, but the seats in the courtroom were nearly all of them occupied.

Counsel for the defense in asking for a new trial asked it on the grounds that the jury had received information concerning the case from sources other than the evidence, that there was misconduct on the part of the attorneys, that the Court misdirected the jury, that the verdict was contrary to law and that it was contrary to the evidence besides for other reasons.

An affidavit of Benley was presented, stating that additional evidence could now be given which was not known of at the time of the trial.

A diagram of the third floor of the St. Elmo Hotel, where the jury staid while engaged on the trial, was also submitted.

Counsel for the prosecution presented separate affidavits of the twelve jurors, each affidavit being in the same language as the others. Each juror deposed that during the time the jury was deliberating upon its verdict, and from the time it went to its room until it returned to court, the jury did not separate, that the jury was constantly in charge of the deputy sheriff, and that no person communicated with deponent in such a manner as to influence his mind. The affidavit of Deputy Sheriff Younken was also shown, containing for the most part the same statements.

Mr. Anderson, Sr., then proceeded with the argument for granting a new trial, the burden of which was that the symptoms under which Mrs. Bentley died were such as those from which she might have been supposed to have died as a result of uræmic poisoning.

Mr. Anderson, Jr., also spoke on the subject. Mr. Denis, in speaking on the question, called attention to a score or so of particulars in which this case was the same as in the famous Dr. Buchanan case tried at the same time in Recorder Smythe's court in New York City.

District Attorney Dillon cited a number of authorities in argument that there were no reasonable grounds for the granting of a new trial.

Mr. Goodrich spoke at some length, touching upon many of the details of the case. Among other things he urged the fallacy of the idea of comparing this case with the famous Dr. Buchanan trial.

The Judge then stated that he would take the matter under advisement, after which court adjourned.

SUSTAINED THE DEMURRER.

Judge Van Dyke yesterday morning sustained the demurrer to the complaint in the damage suit of Emma I. Harvey vs. the Los Angeles Consolidated Electric Railway Company et al., for the reasons set forth in the following brief opinion rendered therein:

This is an action for damages, arising from personal injuries to plaintiff while riding in one of the horse cars operated by defendant, Trask, as receiver of the Pacific Railway Company. The complaint charges negligence on the part of the employés, both of the horse car and electric car, causing the collision from which the injuries resulted.

It is held that an action for damages cannot be maintained against several defendants jointly, when each acts independently of the others, and there is no consent or unity of design between them. (Hulsman vs. Todd, 96 Cal., 232.)

There is no concert or unity of design shown in this case between the two companies, or their officers and employés.

The demurrer for misjoinder must therefore be sustained.

THE MURRAY-CLEMENT CASE.

In Department One of the Superior Court yesterday the case against Lena Murray and C. H. Clement, charged with grand larceny, came on for trial before Judge McKinley and a jury. District Attorney Dillon and Deputy Conkling appeared on behalf of the State to prosecute the case, while the defendant was represented by W. T. Williams, Esq.

The jurors selected to try the case were: J. H. Betsworth, A. K. Coward, S. P. Chamberlain, F. Colby, B. J. Davis, W. Dryden, A. E. Gless, E. F. Hastings, O. B. Hall, R. Kincade, J. Loosmore and Hugh J. Smith.

Before introducing any testimony, the District Attorney moved the Court to dismiss the case against the defendant, Lena Murray, in order that she might turn State's evidence, as provided for in section 1099 of the Penal Code, and this having been granted, the following witnesses testified on behalf of the prosecution: H. T. Hartzell, W. Murphy, W. H. Slosson, Lena Murray, F. W. Putnam and Chief J. M. Glass. Their testimony was to the effect that on March 4 last, Clement hired a horse and buggy at the Tally-ho stables, and the woman subsequently attempted to sell it at the Eureka stables, as she claims, because Clement induced her to do so.

For the defense, however, C. C. Davis, Esq., Tim Sullivan, H. Stoll, W. C. Frey and Clement himself took the stand. The defendant claimed that he knew nothing whatever of the transaction until after his arrest, when the Murray woman told him that she tried to sell the buggy in order to raise money with which to return to Kansas City.

In rebuttal, however, Detectives Moffatt and Bosqui were called, and at the conclusion of their testimony, both sides closed. The argument was opened by District Attorney Dillon, and the matter thereupon went over until this morning.

Court Notes.

Upon motion of the District Attorney, information was filed in Department One yesterday morning charging William H. Young with the murder of Irene Mansfield recently, and Judge McKinley set the arraignment of the defendant for this morning.

The defendants in the case of the West Publishing Company vs. Messrs. Del Valle & Munday, a action to foreclose a chattel mortgage, having allowed the matter to go by default, Judge McKinley yesterday morning ordered judgment for the plaintiff therein, as prayed for.

In the Probate Court yesterday, Judge Clark issued letters of administration of the estate of Martha Larivee, deceased, to R. D. List, without bond.

Judge Wade yesterday morning appointed Robert J. Adcock as guardian ad litum for the minor defendant in the case of Mary A. Rooney et al. vs. Will F. Rooney, an action to reform a deed.

The case of the Old Settlement Water Company vs. Maggie Phelan, an action to recover an alleged delinquent assessment of 40 cents per share levied upon the capital stock of the plaintiff, came up for hearing before Judge Wade yesterday on an appeal from Justice Barnes's court at Pomona, and at the close of the evidence was continued until Tuesday next for argument.

Judge Van Dyke partially tried the case of Wallace M. Wells vs. C. A. Conklin, an action to quiet title to a piece of land on Chavez street, in Department Four yesterday and will take the matter up again this morning.

Joseph Flattery appeared before United States Commissioner Van Dyke yesterday for examination upon the charge of having made a false application for a pension, and was held to answer thereto under bonds in the sum of $2000.

Judge Shaw yesterday morning heard and granted the motion of the plaintiff in the case of Mary Chambers vs. Joseph D. Chambers, an action for divorce, it being ordered that defendant pay her $25 within ten days, and $25 per month during the pendency of the suit.

Eddie Harris, an eleven-year-old lad from Pomona, charged with horse-stealing, was committed to the Whittier State School for the remainder of his minority, by Judge Shaw yesterday afternoon.

The defendant in the appeal case of A. C. Broderson vs. W. B. Barber, was granted an additional stay of execution therein for ten days by Judge Shaw yesterday.

A PENSION FRAUD.

A Deserter Who Assumed an Old Soldier's Name.

Joseph Flaherty, who has been rusticating at the Soldiers' Home, Santa Monica, for over a year, will probably soon change his residence to a less desirable location. Mr. Flaherty, it appears, was a deserter, but for a brief time served in the same company with a man named Joseph Busbee. They fought together at the first battle of Bull Run, after which Flaherty deserted, with the impression that his companion, Busbee, was dead. Flaherty assumed Busbee's name and applied for a pension, which was granted him, and which he has been drawing for some time. A little over a year ago Mr. Flaherty was admitted to the Soldiers' Home and has resided there until a few days ago, when he was cited to appear before Commissioner Van Dyke on a complaint sworn to in San Francisco. The original Busbee having recently turned up in Kansas, the Pension Bureau became convinced that something was wrong, and an inspector was set to work, with the result as stated.

Commissioner Van Dyke yesterday held Flaherty to appear before the Northern District Court at San Francisco.

Flaherty is about 55 years of age, and is now in the County Jail. He will be taken north tomorrow.

Vital Statistics.

The report of the Health Officer for the month of April states that within that time there were 87 deaths, of which number 57 were males. Nine of the decedents were under 1 year of age and 66 of them were 20 or more years old. In 32 cases the causes of death were diseases of the respiratory system, while 18 of the deaths resulted from infectious diseases. During the month there were 76 births, of which number 38 were males.

Pacific Coast Pensions.

A Washington dispatch says the following Pacific Coast pensions were granted May 2:

California—Original, Augustus Lampe, William H. Pyle; increase, Washington Valpey; original widows, etc., Ester Deguirado, Hannah Conway, Sarah Keion, minors of John Wrenn. Oregon—Original widows etc., Mary J. Keeler. Washington — Original, Seneca E. Reeder; increase, Joseph Repp; original widows, etc., Lucretia E. Noftzger.

MORE KEELEY INSTITUTES.

One of the busiest places in the country at the present time is the Keeley headquarters at Dwight. Every train brings patients from all parts of the world, and every train carries away graduates who go home cured and happy. Every day also brings physicians who visit Dwight to receive a course of lectures and thorough practical instruction in the administration of the double chloride of gold treatment.

At Riverside is the only branch in Southern California of this famous institute for the cure of drunkenness, the opium or morphine habit and the tobacco habit. The only agent in Los Angeles has rooms in New Wilson Block, corner First and Spring sts., Nos. 64 and 65, where information as to terms, etc., can be obtained.

AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT.

LOS ANGELES THEATER—The Prodigal Father.
PARK THEATER—Black Crook.

IF Uncle Sam's troops get after Evans and Sontag we shall have a little Indian campaign of our own that will be vastly interesting.

THE recommendation of the Trans-mississippi Congress has been promptly acted upon by the President in appointing a débris commission under the provisions of the Caminetti law.

THE fight against the lieu-land grab still goes merrily on at Sacramento. An advisory board of lawyers, who heard testimony in the case, have decided that the supposed applications locked up in the safe of the Surveyor-General are not bona fide, and consequently cannot have much effect in the land-grabbing project. If the papers are worthless it would be as well for the Surveyor-General to burn them up. There is certainly no occasion for him to guard them from the public with such jealous care. Now that the newspapers have taken the matter in hand those "worthless papers" will not be lost sight of.

WE are in receipt of a neatly-printed pamphlet entitled "California's Budget Transmississippi Congress." It embodies the resolutions passed by the congress indorsing Oakland harbor improvements; the protection of California rivers and promotion of California mining by Government aid for impounding débris; an appropriation for a deep-water harbor near Los Angeles; the fortification of San Diego Harbor; the creation of a national board of harbor commissioners and a request to the President to send invitations to foreign governments where irrigation is practiced to send delegates to the Irrigation Congress to assemble in Los Angeles next October. California got everything from the congress by way of indorsement that was asked for. Our representatives did well, and are entitled to the gratitude of the people of the State.

COL. ALBERT A. POPE, the indefatigable apostle of good roads, proposes a novel and very appropriate exhibit at the World's Fair. A roadway fifty feet in width and one thousand feet in length, extending from the Forestry building, past the Anthropological building and the exhibit of the French colonies to the Live Stock Pavilion, has been placed at his disposal. The plan proposed is to construct this road in sections, beginning with the genesis of road making by leaving a wagon mired in the mud in the first section, illustrating the average road in the country during a large part of the year, and then show in sections of one hundred feet or less, the different methods of road construction common to our country, ending with sections showing methods in use abroad. On each section it is proposed to show under glass a cross section, illustrating drainage and manner of construction.

The gold question still continues to be the main factor affecting Wall street interests. President Cleveland's firm declaration that the payment of all Government obligations in gold shall be maintained under any circumstances had an assuring effect. It at least set at rest one serious uncertainty, and that had the tonic result of bracing up the stock market and checking the attacks of the "bears," which were becoming daily more vigorous. At the moment, the preponderant disposition is to rest and wait. There are so many matters affecting the situation and the early future that cannot at present be estimated, that both sides on the market hesitate about committing themselves to large transactions. A hesitating market is always a dull one, and, if the uncertainty becomes protracted, it may easily become a yielding one.

Our telegraphic advices show that the "hesitating market" has developed into a panic.

THE raisin producers of Fresno are organizing for another coöperative campaign to protect themselves from the tricks and exactions of the middlemen. They are not discouraged by the inauspicious turn of the market last year, but propose to keep hitting in the same place until they secure a proper market and their just share of the proceeds of their industry. The orange-growers of Southern California are emulating their plucky example. California has so recently demonstrated her ability to furnish a large surplus of fruits and fruit products that the channels of trade have not yet been fully adjusted to the new source of supply. They are now in the formative stage, and as they become established they are likely to remain for many years. Upon the conditions which are now secured depends the question whether fruit-growing will continue to be a profitable industry or whether it will drop to the level of corn and wheat-growing in the West. If the middlemen had their way about it they would absorb all the profits and leave the grower only enough to keep soul and body together. The producers must organize all along the line and stick to their organizations if they expect to hold their own.

Men Without a Country.

The easy-going American laws regarding citizenship at home and abroad have developed a class of people in Europe who masquerade as Americans for personal convenience and advantage, but who are foreigners in every essential. This knowledge has been brought out through a more rigid regulation concerning the issuance of passports by American consuls instituted by Mr. Blaine when he was Secretary of State. He directed that passports should be reissued to Americans permanently residing abroad only when they declared their intention of returning to this country to reside. As a result of such instructions some interesting facts have been brought to light at Vienna, where Rudolph G. W. Lippett is found to have been having his passport renewed periodically, though, save for two brief visits, he never was in America at all. He was born in Vienna of American parents, temporarily residing there, which, under the provisions of international law, made him an American citizen. This citizenship relieved him of the onerous obligation of military service, as he now seeks to have his two sons, born in Vienna, relieved, whose names are registered at the American consulate. This cute gentleman seeks to enjoy all the benefits of citizenship without sharing any of a citizen's responsibility. Mr. Lippett's application for a passport has been denied until he can develop a definite intention of coming to America for a permanent home. Several similar cases have recently developed in London.

These deadheads upon American citizenship have been able to shirk the responsibilities to the government under which they live, and at the same time pay no allegiance to the government whose protection they claim. When we understand that the protection thus fraudulently invoked was liable to involve the United States in an international dispute at any time, and might even lead to hostilities, we can appreciate the enormity of the imposition. It is well to put a stop to the vicious practice in a summary way. Indeed, there is a certain class of Americans, like William Waldorf Astor, who choose the monarchial institutions of the old world in preference to American republicanism, that ought to be expatriated as soon as possible. It is an insult to the Nation to have them posing as American citizens, and securing the protection of this Government, while doing all in their power to discredit and contemn the land of their birth. They ought to be compelled to become subjects of a monarchial form of government, which they affect so much to admire and pay their full share of tribute to royalty. If it were possible, there should also be levied a heavy excise tax on the revenues which they draw from this country. They have sold their birthright for a mess of pottage to be doled out to them by the old world aristocracy, and they are not worthy in any sense to enjoy their native privileges or immunities. If they do not chose to become subjects of a foreign nation, then they should be left out entirely and recognized simply as men without a country,

Living, to forfeit fair renown,
And, doubly dying, to go down
To the vile earth from which they sprung,
Unwept, unhonored and unsung.

A "Construction" of the Constitution.

Some of the old-line Democrats who, like Justice Field, seize every opportunity to work off their ante-bellum States rights ideas, will be greatly interested in an argument recently made by Judge Fenner, of the Louisiana Supreme Court, on the subject of secession. Judge Fenner is an ex-Confederate, and he exemplifies one of the Democratic characteristics of never forgetting anything, though he seems to have fallen down on the other, for he has learned something. He characterized the position of Daniel Webster on the Constitution as "utterly unwarranted." He contended that the Constitution was merely a compact entered into between sovereign States, and that the Government established by that instrument was a federal and not a national government. It left to the States the right to resume independence at their pleasure. The right of secession, he said, was "not mere pretext manufactured by the South to suit an occasion," but such right "was parent of the Constitution itself." Such was the Constitution as it existed before the war. But the country is living at the present time under a reconstructed Constitution. The war of the Rebellion was not a "rebellion," he thinks, but a struggle growing out of the construction of the Constitution. But in that war the men who interpreted the Constitution to mean a national instead of a federal government won the day, and the Constitution as they construed it and rewrote it is today the Constitution of the country, accepted as such by the Southern States when they returned to the Union.

Judge Fenner concludes as follows:

We live today under a new and different Constitution, changed by the bloody arbitrament of arms—by the inveterate res adjudicata of war. When the Southern States renewed their allegiance to the Constitution and reëntered the Union after the war, they tacitly accepted the construction enforced by the victors, and the right of secession was unconditionally surrendered as if an express amendment had been passed to that effect. If any man should be rash enough to claim that a State had the right today to secede from the Union at its pleasure, I should be the first to condemn him.

The ingeniousness of this argument is worthy an astute lawyer. It saves the self-respect of the old-liners, for it makes out the States-rights doctrine valid in itself; it glorifies the rebels by making them patriots, and it accepts the inevitable under the Constitution as now "construed" with good grace. If there is a weak point in the argument it is in the assumption that might makes right, and that a "construction" of the Constitution by force of arms rewrites it. But behind this the ex-rebels can take shelter when they wish to pose as martyrs as well as patriots.

NOW THAT the cruel war is over in San Bernardino county and thereabouts, there is nothing that the San Bernardino and Riverside papers can do so appropriately as to kiss and make up. They could not live happily in the same family, but they can avoid shying rocks across the division fence hereafter.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

LOS ANGELES THEATER.—A big house was in attendance at the Los Angeles Theater to receive the willowy lady from Spain, Carmencita, who dances with all the fire and poetry of that country of dark locks and flashing eyes. The great danseuse is possibly a trifle more matronly in figure than when she was last seen here, but she is the same magnetic body; the same wonderfully supple, lithe and graceful being who so charmed us then. Her dancing is Carmencita. It is like no one else, and it is scarcely praiseful enough to say that she is worth going miles to see.

The Prodigal Father is a brilliant comedy, running over with witty lines and a spirit of pure fun that keeps the laughter bubbling all the time the curtain is up.

The company, which Messrs. Jefferson, Klaw and Erlanger has sent us, is one of the best all-round combinations of players seen here for many a day, and hence the movement goes on with such snap and spirit as to be a positive pleasure to witness. George W. Denham is a charming comedian, with a wonderful power of facial expression, and as "Stanley Dodge," the consummate liar and "Prodigal Father," he is excruciatingly droll. George C. Boniface, Jr., as "Tom Breeze," made a great hit, especially when disguised as the warrior from the wilds of Zululand, and he kept the audience convulsed with laughter. As a comedian of the extravagant order he is great. Walter Thomas, George Gaston, Frank Caldwell and Cecil Kingston are all competent and clever actors who deserved the fine reception they got last evening. Blanche Chapman Forde made a fine success in the rôle of "Dollie Bonde," the serio-comic singer. She has a striking style and a most pleasing stage presence. Hope Rose and Cora Macey are handsome young women and talented artists. While little Irene Franklin is a phenomenally clever child actress. As the enfant terrible she brought down the house. People who enjoy seeing a clever play, played with intelligence, should not miss The Prodigal Father, for it is one of the most entertaining things presented on our boards this season. The play, combined with the matchless dancing of the beautiful Spaniard, Carmencita, goes to make up a very superior attraction. It will be repeated this evening and tomorrow afternoon and at night.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.—It will be as "Mrs. Gen. Gilflory" in Woolf's famous comedy, The Mighty Dollar, that Mrs. W. J. Florence will make her bow before her many admirers at the Los Angeles Theater, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 9 and 10. For the past few years Mrs. Florence has been away from the stage, a greater part of the time having been spent abroad, and on her return to this country so much pressure was brought to bear upon her that she consented at last to appear behind the footlights. In the rôle of "Mrs. Gen. Gilflory" Mrs. Florence has attained a world-wide reputation as a comedienne; she is true to her art, and presents every detail with a delicacy of finish that is remarkable. The rôle of the "Hon. Bardwell Slote," formerly played by the late W. J. Florence, will be assumed by H. Coveny, who was a member of Mr. and Mrs. Florence's company.

Some very novel and handsome dresses from the design and make of the great Felix of Paris will be worn by Mrs. W. J. Florence in the forthcoming production of The Mighty Dollar.

The first evening of the engagement will be the annual benefit of the popular manager, Harry C. Wyatt.

The Grand Operahouse will reopen on Thursday next, presenting for three nights and a matinée the Boston Howard Athenæum Specialty Company, which has been playing at San Francisco one of the most successful engagements in the history of the California Theater. The Chronicle says it is about the best specialty company ever seen in that city, speaking particularly of Miss Bertoldi, a young, pretty girl who does some of the most wonderful acrobatic feats on the stage, and as a contortionist is a perfect marvel. Fulgora is a remarkable change artist and Kara is said to be the best juggler after Curgnevalli. Melville and Stetson are two sisters who sing and give imitations and get off jokes quite unusually clever, for they are both refined and attractive-looking, and they have a song which is perfectly sure to be caught up by the boys. Fox is a clever entertainer, gives some new imitations on the piano, and makes some very amusing hits. LeRoy is a neat and dextrous conjurer, and does a very pretty cabinet trick. The brothers Dixon, musical clowns, did a novelty in bell ringing that made one of the hits of the evening. There are a number of other vaudeville features that are highly spoken of.

RAISED THE MONEY.

Liquidation of the Debt of the Bellevue Avenue M. E. Church.

As has been before announced the long roll-call for the canceling of the debt on the Bellevue avenue M. E. Church took place at the church last evening. The desired amount, $2500, was raised, all giving most generously. The services were opened by a song service, followed in prayer by Rev. Mr. Morrill. Then the tickets were called by number, the first dollar being laid on the altar by Priscilla Butterfield, the youngest member of the church, and the next dollar by Mrs. Melinda Lucas, the oldest member. Then other members followed in rapid succession, Messrs. Butterfield, Welper, Pugh, Robbins and Armstrong receiving the money. A touching incident in the canceling of the debt was the payment of a ticket of $1 taken by Ralph Odell, a little boy of 10 years, who earned his money and sent the money and card, but he died in the morning before the services took place.

An announcement was made that a service of burning the note and mortgage will take place tonight at the church. The notes will be burned on a silver plate, which will be engraved and made a part of the communion service of the church.

Rev. G. M. White, the presiding elder of the district, will preach tonight. Two paintings, one of Epworth Church and Epworth Rectory, which have been given to the church, will be unveiled. The name of the church will be changed from this date to Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church.

The heartfelt thanks of the church are extended to those who have aided in liquidating this debt. A vote of thanks was extended to Rev. Mr. Cole for his earnest work in the matter.

League Standing.

The standing of the clubs in the California League to date, is as follows:

CLUBS.	Games Played.	Won.	Lost.	Per Cent.
Oakland	21	16	8	.666
Los Angeles	27	14	13	.518
San Francisco	26	12	14	.462
Stockton	21	7	14	.333

Yesterday's game at Athletic Park was full of life and other features from start to finish. In the first place, Col. T. Pay-his-men Robinson was absent, being engaged in other business at Oakland. That was feature number one. In the second place, many of the audience were absent also, having read in an Associated Press dispatch in the morning papers that the Colonel's men were on a strike, when, if the "fans" had studied THE TIMES baseball column carefully yesterday morning, they would have seen that the Colonol "had finally herded his men together" and sent them down here. Feature number three and up to about ten was the errorless and clean playing of Glenalvin's recent acquisitions, Hughes and Hutchinson. Hernon's loud and vigorous coaching, Umpire McDonald's new cap, the dirty-looking suits of the Oakland team, the heavy hitting on both sides, the superior base-stealing of the Angels, and last, but not least, for it won the game, the wonderful three-bagger of Glenalvin when two men were out, three on bases, and after two strikes had been called on him. Another, and an important feature, was the faultless conduct of Tip O'Neill. Tip has calmed down considerably since he was here last, and his deportment yesterday was irreproachable.

The first inning started with an amusing feature. Rasty Wright was at bat and knocked a foul fly just outside the line. Collopy, at third, and Irwin, from short, both ran after it, and collided with each other and the ball. Some time was consumed in extricating arms and legs, but finally it occurred to both gentlemen that the ball was needed in the game, and they set about to find it. But it was of little use just then to Mr. Horner, the Colonel's pitcher, for Rasty took his base on balls. Then Mr. Hulen fouled out to Catcher Cody and McCauley popped a retiring fly. With the situation thus, Mr. Hutchinson, Glen's new man, stepped to the bat, and, amid the cheering of the multitude, made himself solid for the season by a beautiful base hit that brought Mr. Wright home. Mr. Hutchinson died at second on Glenalvin's fly to left field. The Colonel also made one run in this inning, but he had to work a little harder to get it. McGucken took his base on balls, and got as far as third, where he was put out by a quich throw of Lytle's from right field. Irwin scored for the Colonel by a base hit and reached third by a combination of base stealing and an error of Lohman's and getting home while Earl was being put out at second.

In the beginning of the second Lytle took his base on balls and stole to second. Lohman was given a life, but it was short, as he was put out while trying to steal to second, but as in the mean time Lytle had scored in some mysterious and unforeseen manner, there was no kick coming. Mr. Hughes, the new-comer, after being "ovated," went out on an infield sail. One run and two men out thus far, and the bases clear, when Mr. Nicol delivered himself of a clean two-bagger and scored on "Rasty" Wright's hit and an error more or less of the Colonel's crack team. Mr. Wright then also scored on Hulen's two-bagger, after which the run getting subsided for that inning. The Colonel wasn't in it at all just then, three of his men in succession biting the dust.

In the third the Angels repeated. Hutchinson flew out, but Glenalvin got to second on a clean base hit, and a steal equally clean. Lytle singled, bringing Glen home, during which Lytle also stole to second. Mr. Lohman walked down the aisle without having hit a lick. Both Lytle and Lohman were advanced after Hughes's long fly to right field, after which Lytle stole in his run from third. Nicol's base hit brought Lohman home, and Wright's fly-out retired the side. The Colonel was only credited with a straight up-and-down mark, his man Horner getting in a run just a second before the third man for the side was outed at second.

The fourth and fifth innings were barren for the Angels. The Colonel also goose-egged in the fourth, but in the fifth he got in his work in great shape. Mr. O'Neill took base on balls. Mr. Hernon captured the first outpost by a nice clean hit. Mr. Cody also got to first. Then Mr. Horner was presented with the base by his opponent in the box, thus forcing O'Neill to score. Mr. McGucken then not only got to first himself, but succeeded in bringing Messrs. Hernon and Cody home. Irwin drove a hot one to Hutchinson, who fielded it to the home plate in time to put McGucken out. This tied the score, and was all the Colonel cared for just then, so he concluded to let up.

The sixth ended without a run being made on either side, but it looked very shaky for the Angels at one time. After two men were out the Colonel succeeded in getting two men on bases, and only by the most strenuous exertions was he prevented from scoring.

The seventh produced three runs for each side, again tying the score. Lytle, Lohman and Hughes carried off the honors for the home club, while Irwin, Earl and O'Neill did the same for the visitors. Hard hitting, bases on balls, a few errors and a close decision of the umpire, all contributed to bring about this result.

The next inning netted naught for either side, nor did the Colonel get anything in the ninth. The Angels, however, got in their work, making three runs, and here is how they did it: Both Nicol and Wright had been retired, when Hulen singled. McCauley did the same, sending Hulen to third. Pop slid to second, and made room for Hutchinson, who was shortly after hit by pitcher. With two men out, and the bases full, Glenalvin took his place at bat. As mentioned before, after two strikes had been called on him, he found the ball for just three bases, scoring Hulen, McCauley and Hutchinson. Thus the first game of the series was wrested from the leaders, and the Angels crawled up a notch. For further particulars the reader is referred to the official score below:

DIAMOND DUST.

Hughes is also an excellent coacher—something the Angels have long needed.

Hughes is certainly a great find. His playing yesterday was remarkable for clean and accurate throwing.

The Angels are climbing to the top. Four more games from the Oaklands this series will do the business.

Roach will pitch for the home team today, and Griffiths will do the grand act for the Colonel. Today is Ladies' day.

There is nothing that puts more "ginger" in the game than well-timed "jollying" from the coaching department.

Errors were plentiful on both sides, but the Angels' column shows up a great deal better than the Colonels' summary.

Hutchinson in left field is an improvement on Van Dyke. He is also a heavy hitter, in which respect he also excels his predecessors.

The game looked rather shaky for the Angels several times yesterday, but salvation was always at hand at the critical moment. Glenalvin was one of the "salvation" in the ninth inning.

Stockton 8, San Francisco 3.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The Stockton Club defeated the San Francisco team this afternoon by a score of 8 to 3. Knell pitched for the home team, and was very unsteady. The errors made by his side were costly. Fanning pitched a strong game for Stockton, and had good support. Stockton's new second baseman, Kloof, played in the game.

BALTIMORE, May 4.—Good fielding and batting by Boston won the game. Baltimore, 7; Boston, 11.

CLEVELAND, May 4.—The Colts batted Young hard. Cleveland, 3; Chicago, 5.

THE GEARY ACT.

The Last Day on Which Chinese Will Be Allowed to Register.

The Geary Exclusion Act becomes operative from and after today, and every Chinaman who has not complied with its requirements, and taken out proper registration papers, is subject to arrest, and, after imprisonment, deportation to China. At least that is the status of the case under ordinary circumstances. As is well known, however, acting under the orders of the Six Companies, the Chinese have ignored the law, and but a very small fraction of the Mongolians have taken out their registration papers. The Six Companies, backed up by the Chinese government, contend that the Geary act is unconstitutional, and it is to have the matter passed upon by the Supreme Court that the enforcement of the law has been postponed. Orders were sent out from the Treasury Department on Tuesday to collectors of customs and internal revenue collectors not to arrest Chinese who have not complied with the Geary act, until the test case has been passed upon by the Supreme Court, which will be on the 10th. As the case now stands the Government will be compelled to put the law into operation by force, if the Supreme Court rules it constitutional.

In this city there is no excitement whatever among the Chinese, the heathens apparently having full confidence in their leaders to see them through any trouble.

Almost a Serious Accident.

A five-year-old boy named Willie Barngrover, whose parents live at Palmdale, had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon. About 4 o'clock as the child was crossing Franklin street, at Spring, with his mother, he was run over by a buggy driven by Billy Newell, but fortunately escaped serious injury, receiving a slight cut on the upper lip, and a few bruises on the thigh, where the wheels passed over him. Newell promptly stopped his buggy and gave all the assistance in his power, carrying the child to the office of Drs. Becknell & Moore, where the former attended to his injuries, and afterward taking the child to the Natick, where the family are stopping. The Franklin street intersection is a dangerous place, and it has been suggested that an officer be stationed at that point permanently.

The Ragan Lectures.

H. M. Ragan delivered the second of his series of illustrated lectures at the Church of the Unity last evening before a large and appreciative audience. "Ramblings in Rome" was the subject of the evening's discourse, which was illustrated by numerous stereopticon views, the best of the kind ever seen in this city. Mr. Ragan is an entertaining and instructive speaker, and has the happy faculty of carrying his audience with him. His next lecture will be given on Monday next, the subject being "A Trip to Alaska."

RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

Another Effort to Fix Up a Seaport Agreement.

Angry Farmers Drive Away a Railroad Construction Gang.

Interstate Commerce Commission Meeting in Chicago.

A Long Electric Railway to Be Built—Shortening Time by the Rio Grande—Local Notes—Scrap Heap.

It is expected that the general freight agents of the Los Angeles roads will get themselves together again today to make binding the proposed new agreement for handling seaport business. As stated before, it is claimed that a new arrangement is practically agreed upon, and the Southern Pacific is prepared to yield a little from its previous position.

WORK ON A RAILROAD SUSPENDED.

SIOUX FALLS (S. D.,) May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The work on the new line of the Sioux Falls and Yankton road came to a sudden stop this morning. In Turner and Lincoln counties hundreds of teams and 200 men were driven off by the farmers through whose land they were working. The payment for the right-of-way was not satisfactory. The matter will be fixed up soon.

NORTHERN PACIFIC FLOATING DEBT.

NEW YORK, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The Tribune says: "A letter has been sent to the officers of the Northern Pacific Railway, by Brayton Ives, president of the Western National Bank, formally withdrawing the offer made by him, in behalf of a powerful syndicate, to undertake funding the floating debt of the Northern Pacific at 6 per cent. for five years. Ives says he wrote this letter simply because his previous communication brought no answer from the officers of the company. His action, however, has revived in Wall street the criticisms that have been leveled against the company's management. Some of stockholders express their views in vigorous language, and say that the proposition of the syndicate was made most courteously and has been treated with contemptuous silence."

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

CHICAGO, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The Interstate Commerce Commission assembled here today to hear a number of complaints against railroads, but none of the cases were ready and no testimony was heard. In the case of Robert F. Johnson against the Southern Pacific, Atchison Topeka and Santa Fé and Arizona and New Mexico railroads, the commission was notified that an amicable settlement has been made.

AN ELECTRIC RAILROAD TO BE BUILT.

CLEVELAND, May 4.—Right-of-way has been secured for an electric railroad to connect this city with Toledo and Detroit.

MISSOURI RIVER TO CALIFORNIA.

CHICAGO, May 4.—[By the Associated Press.] At a meeting of the Chicago Railway Association it was decided to accept the joint notice of the Southern Pacific, Santa Fé, Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific that they would put into effect on May 5 a rate of $44.50 from the Missouri River to California, based on the rate to go into effect west of the river on May 5.

SCRAP HEAP.

H. A. Hodge, general freight agent of the New York and New England road, is visiting Southern California.

General Manager K. H. Wade of the Santa Fé's Southern California lines, is expected to arrive from the East next Sunday.

Superintendent J. A. Muir, in this city, of the Southern Pacific, who is passing a vacation in the East, left New York yesterday for Novia Scotia, where he will visit his old home.

It is now said that the new Santa Fé depot here will not be ready for use before June 17. The inclement weather of the past winter is charged with the delay in the work, which should have been done May 1.

A new time table will go into effect on the Denver and Rio Grande on the 7th inst., which will enable tourists from California to see the matchless scenery on that line by daylight. The change will also shorten the time to Chicago twenty-four hours.

The Secretary of the Treasury has officially named Port Los Angeles—which is as yet better known as the Santa Monica Wharf—as a sub-port of entry. A deputy customs collector will be stationed at Santa Monica, which places that port on a footing with San Pedro, and foreign vessels are allowed to receive and discharge cargo upon the big wharf.

The Chronicle says: "Negotiations are said to be pending between C. P. Huntington and an agent of the Guatemalan Government for the construction of a line of railroad to be run across that republic, in opposition to the Panama Railroad. C. P. Huntington, it is said, has already built a broad-gauge line from San Jose de Guatemala, on the Pacific, to Guatemala City, at a cost of $10,000,000. A Frenchman built twenty miles of road from Point Barrios, on the Atlantic side, but was obliged to abandon his enterprise, owing to lack of credit. It is now proposed to continue this road to Guatemala City, a distance of 264 miles. The estimated cost of making the connection is $15,000,000, and as there will be most difficult mountain work, involving bridging and tunneling, it will be a long time before the scheme is developed."

STOLE A DOG.

A Pullman Porter Convicted of Petty Larceny Before Justice Seaman.

C. Reedy, colored, a Pullman car porter, was charged with having stolen a dog. The canine was a valuable one, and W. J. Casey, who was the owner, was traveling with it in the same car in which Reedy was employed. While traveling through Kansas, or some point near there, Casey claimed that for a stipulated sum he gave the dog to Reedy to care for until their arrival at Los Angeles. The porter put the animal in a locker, and on their arrival at this city refused to deliver the animal. The defendant, when on the witness stand, swore that he had nothing whatever to do with the dog. It was argued by Reedy's attorney that Reedy could not be found guilty because the alleged offense was not committed within the State of California. Assistant District Attorney Davis urged that the Court should consider that the porter contracted to deliver the animal at Los Angeles, and on failing to do so would commit a theft here rather than in any other State. The defendant was adjudged guilty, and will appear for sentence tomorrow morning.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

A large number of guests assembled at the Industrial School, corner of Jackson and Lafayette streets, yesterday, in response to invitations issued for a reception to Mrs. C. M. Severance, for many years president of the Kindergarten Association.

The work being done here in the heart of a district where the children of the poor literally swarm is one of the most commendable and practical character. The little ones who are too young to be admitted to the public schools are taken into the kindergarten and kitchen garden and trained, not only in the line of amusement and general knowledge, but in a practical, definite way are taught to do housework, from bed-making to washing dishes, sweeping, etc.

All the utensils of a well-ordered household are furnished for the use of the children, the dishes and beds and brooms being of a size suited to the small housekeepers.

Yesterday twenty bright-eyed, white-aproned little folks went through with their exercises for the benefit of the visitors, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Clark. To the music of the piano, played by Miss McLelland, they sang their pretty household songs, made the tiny beds, set the tables with all the appointments of a sure-enough dinner table, marched and countermarched and concluded their exercises by passing about cake, ice cream and lemonade to the guests. Master Dick Dively made himself useful in waiting upon the little housekeepers as they went about their tasks. As yet no provision has been made for the industrial training of boys, but as the school continues to grow and develop this department will be added.

The guests were received and cordially welcomed by Mrs. Wills and her daughter, who are largely interested in this work. Among the ladies present were: Mmes. C. M. Severance, Jessie Benton Frémont, Stimson, C. T. Parsons, Dr. Hagan, F. A. Gibson, Loeb, H. T. Lee, George F. Bugbee, George Fitch, A. H. Judson, J. G. Ogilvie, Olive C. Cole, Glassell, Warner, Newmark, A. L. Whitney; Misses Hutchins, Oliver, Mills, Fette, Severns, Seymour, Spencer, Mrs. Bosbyshell.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

There was a pleasant gathering at the parsonage of the Third Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening, on the occasion of the thirty-third anniversary of the marriage of Rev. and Mrs. D. R. Colmery. The congregation had met at the house of George A. Howard, and, proceeding in a body to the parsonage, they filled it to overflowing with a merry crowd of well-wishers, old and young.

After a social hour they were called to order, and Mrs. Howard presented, in a happy way, to Mr. Colmery, on the part of the gentlemen, a well-filled envelop, and from the ladies, to Mrs. Colmery, a pretty little basket of orange blossoms, which had a suggestive click when handled. Miss Anna, their daughter, was presented by the Christian Endeavor Society with a gold C. E. pin. Mr. Colmery, in a few words of hearty appreciation, expressed their gratitude for these tokens of esteem, and afterward a dainty lunch, provided by the visitors, was served, to the evident enjoyment of all. This was followed by the reading of a poem composed by the pastor in commemoration of the event, and received the applause it well deserved. At a late hour the company joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," after which Rev. A. W. Rider, of Memorial Baptist Church, offered a very appropriate prayer. The happy crowd then bade good night to the household and went away, feeling that the tie between pastor and people was still stronger.

A PLEASANT PARTY.

A pleasant party was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Walker, at 512 West Second street, Monday evening. Among those present were Mrs. and Miss Platt, Misses Jennie, Ida and Fannie Collins, Misses Virginia and Ida McClure, Misses Zellner, Malloy, Ethel Walker, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McDonald, Messrs. F. F. Connor, M. W. Everhardy, McClure, Pompernickle, Harvey, Slumberguzzle.

Music was the feature of the evening, and selections were rendered by a number of the guests. Mr. Pompernickle sang several sentimental selections in a delightful manner. Elegant refreshments were served, after which the affair terminated, all wishing for a speedy reunion.

ORATORICAL CONTEST.

College circles are much interested in the intercollegiate college contest, which occurs tonight at Y.M.C.A. Hall. Representative orators from the Occidental, Pomona College and the University of Southern California will compete. At the close of the entertainment a handsome purse and a gold medal will be presented to the successful orator.

Died of Apoplexy.

[San Diego Union, 4th.]

C. G. Brown, agent for D. L. Osborne & Co. of San Francisco, died at Escondido Tuesday morning, after two or three hours of sickness. He went to Escondido last Monday and was assisting his men in unloading a car of machinery when he was attacked. He was placed in an empty car and a physician hastily summoned. In spite of all efforts he failed to rally. There were strong suspicions of poison having been administered, and Coroner Woodward was accordingly notified. An inquest was held the same day and the autopsy revealed that Brown had died of apoplexy. A large clot of blood was found in the brain. The jury rendered a verdict according to the examination.

The deceased was about 55 years of age. His family, residing at Long Beach, were notified of his death, and, on their order, the remains were shipped home yesterday.

Lightly Fined.

In Justice Seaman's court yesterday Frank Dixon and William J. Davis were fined $2 each for disturbing the peace.

THE MILLER MURDER

A New Point Brought Out by the Prosecution.

The Testimony of Chief Glass and Police Detectives.

The Finding of the Blood-stained Machinist's Hammer.

Experiments Made at the Morgue—The Head of the Hammer Exactly Fitted in the Hole in Miller's Skull.

It yet remains to be proved that G. H. Miles murdered his friend and partner, George Miller, at the Carleton saloon on the night of May 16, 1891. The prosecution seemed to gain but little yesterday in the review of the testimony which had not already been given at the preliminary examination, held at the time of the tragedy, but it is very evident that they are reserving their strongest evidence until the last. In the testimony of Chief Glass, however, a new feature was developed, which has not heretofore been made known, and that was the announcement of the finding of a poker chip and a number of keys in a drawer behind the bar of the saloon, upon which were blood stains, during the day following the night of the murder. In that same connection it will be necessary to establish the fact as to whether or, not the stains were really from blood, or whether they were merely caused by oxidization of the metal, resulting from exposure to the air and moisture, and such testimony is being awaited with interest.

True to his word of the previous evening, Judge Smith kept a vigilant eye on the proceedings to head off delaying arguments and hinderjng passages of words between the attorneys. The result was that by evening the case had progressed far along, with fair prospects of concluding the taking of testimony by Saturday night, if not the whole case. The usual crowd of spectators wandered in and out of the courtroom at intervals throughout the day, and at no time was there a vacant seat within or outside the rail.

MORNING SESSION.

George Gerkins took the stand shortly after the calling of the jury. As he before testified, he said he was on watch previous to Miles in tending the bar. Miller was intoxicated on the day of the murder, and went off riding at about 10 o'clock. Gerkins was relieved by Miles in the early part of the evening at the bar. He returned later, and sat down for a short time to read the paper. Miles then asked him to go to the natatorium for some change, which he did. He left the place at 9:30 o'clock, and did not return again that night. The news of Miller's death was not made known to him until the following morning. He did not know of any hatchets about the premises, but thought there was a hammer. This was sometimes kept in a closet behind the bar, close to the west end. The hammer resembled a riveting tool.

Deputy District Attorney Dupuy here called for a package at the clerk's desk and asked the witness if he could identify the hammer shown him as that kept behind the bar.

"I don't know. I am not sure, but I don't think it is," replied the witness.

Miller was in the habit of going into the room where the lounge was to sleep off his drunken stupor. The door to wine room No. 4 was usually kept open, and when the witness passed through the hallway while going to the natatorium for change he did not notice anything out of the way about the rear entrance.

The witness at first said he did not believe there was a hatchet about the place, but upon being shown portions of his testimony given at the preliminary hearing, changed his mind on cross-examination, and said that there might have been a hatchet there. Some time during the afternoon Miller was seen drinking with a stranger whose name he afterward found was Nelson.

Mr. Shinn, after refreshing the witness' memory by frequent quotations from the transcript, finally asking him what Miller and Nelson were talking about on any of the times they were seen together.

The Court stopped the witness before he had answered, saying that the question was incompetent, as the man Nelson was not on trial.

This line of interrogatories was therefore abandoned, and continuing, the witness stated that he did not see Miller after the latter went back to the room.

Another hammer was then shown him, but this also he was not sure of as being the one which had been seen about the Carleton saloon.

S. G. Morton of the police force was then called. He said that the news of the murder was brought to the station on the night of May 16, 1891, by a young man named Wooley. He (Morton) immediately left for the saloon, in company with Officer Maguire and two reporters named Jones and Miller. When he reached the place the party repaired to the rear portion of the saloon. The door to room 3 being locked, Miles ordered Wooley to go back to the bar and get the key to the door. When the door was opened Miller was seen lying on the lounge on his back, dead. The body was still somewhat warm, not being yet rigid. Upon examination, an ugly wound was found on the dead man's head on the left side, over and back of the ear. The puncture seemed to have been made with the point of a pick or riveting hammer. The double doors between rooms 3 and 4 were closed. Some one placed a hand upon one of these doors and it went open. Witness did not know whether it was he or Miles who pushed the door open. Miles remarked that Miller had been in the habit of keeping this entrance nailed up. The doors opened into room 4. A hole was found, where a nail had been driven to fasten the doors. No nail, however, was seen anywhere around, although a search was made for one about the floor of the room.

Miles and Wooley were placed under arrest, and all of the doors of the saloon were locked and an officer left in charge. Returning later to the saloon the witness made a search of the entire premises, and looked around the rear entrance for tracks. The hammer was finally found. If Miles manifested surprise when the double doors were pushed open it was not noticed. The body of Miller was searched, but nothing of value was found on it. There was no watch in the pocket.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

W. W. Freeman took the witness stand at 2 o'clock, when the afternoon session of the trial was begun. He had been playing billiards at the Carlton during the evening of the murder, and was in the rear of the building when Wooley went back to wake up Miller. Wooley knocked on the door of room 3, but it was not opened. After Wooley got inside the witness saw him shake Miller. The former then went to the bar and told Miles that Miller was dead. Miles uttered an exclamation at the news and turned his face away. Freeman and his friends then went out and across the street.

The defense did not cross-examine this witness, and he was excused shortly afterward.

William B. Johnson was a special police officer when the murder occurred. He testified that he had, on the day following the 16th, gone to the saloon to look for traces of the murder or any clew that might be sufficient to attach suspicion to some one. He, with others, went then to the room where Miller's body was found, and looked at the lounge and made a search of the apartment. They might have found a loose nail on the floor, but if they did he could not recall it. From room 3 they went to the liquor-room, and there they found a hatchet. The tool was a new one and evidently had been used but little. When they returned to the main room in the building the billiard sticks were all examined first and the party looked through the doors and drawers about the bar. Back of some cigar boxes was found a machinist's hammer. By the aid of a glass a small spot on the thickest part of the metal head could be seen which resembled blood. When the witness reached in to get the tool he felt something soft and found that there was a cloth over it. The hammer was put back where it was found at the time, but it was afterward taken to the police station. At the morgue the witness examined the wounds in Miller's head and decided that they might have been made by a hammer similar to the one which he had found. There were two indentations, one round and the other more oblong. The skull was broken in the case of both wounds. The hammer found in the saloon was tried in the holes in the head and found to fit the marks. When the hammer was in the wound it fitted so closely as to cause the head to move if it was disturbed. There was another hammer found around or behind the bar besides the machinist's tool. Witness was then called upon to identify the second hammer, but as he was not certain that he was on the spot when it was found the defense raised objection.

"Judge Dupuy, you don't intend to show that this last hammer was the one with which Miller was murdered?" inquired the Court, before ruling on the objection.

"Most certainly not," was the reply.

"Then it has no bearing in the case," continued the Judge.

"Well, if it please the Court, it does have a very material bearing which we do not propose to show at this time," responded the attorney, whereupon the objection was overruled, and the witness stated in answer to the question that the hammer struck him as being similar, if it was not the same one that had been found last.

Chief of Police Glass took the stand directly after Capt. Johnson was excused. He had been notified of the murder at about 4 o'clock on the morning after the discovery of the body of Miller. In company with several other officers he went to the saloon and viewed the premises and remains of the murdered man. He saw both the hammers found, and identified both of those offered as the ones he had previously seen and had in his possession since the murder and preliminary examination, up to the time of the session of the last grand jury. When the Chief first saw the machinist's hammer it had blood upon it and the handle was still moist.

The hammer last mentioned and the drawing of the premises were then offered in evidence and filed as exhibits of the people, notwithstanding the objection for the defense on the ground of incompetency.

The examination of the witness then continued. Chief Glass further stated that he was present when the machinist's hammer was tried in the wounds in Miller's head. Other hammers were tried, but the machinist's was the only one that fitted the puncture exactly. Some keys were found in a drawer back of the bar with blood on them also. The drawer in which the keys were found was an old money till, evidently not in daily use. In the drawer was also an ivory chip. On this, too, was a spot of blood.

At the conclusion of the direct examination Attorney Shinn arose and asked that the cross-examination be postponed until the skull of Miller was introduced and identified, as the defense wished to use it in their course of questions.

This was agreed to by the other side, and W. H. Auble was then called.

The detective had gone to the Carleton saloon after the murder of Miller had been committed. He remembered the finding of the hammer by Officer Johnson. There were some spots on the hammer head and handle that looked like blood. At the undertaker's the witness saw the body of Miller and examined the wounds in the head. The machinist's hammer was tried in the holes and found to fit exactly. Other hammers, he thought, were used also in the experimental trials there.

The defense made a vigorous endeavor to shake the testimony of the witness on cross-examination. To the question as to why he did not testify regarding the alleged blood stains at the preliminary hearing, Mr. Auble said he was not asked.

C. H. Wallin, formerly a police detective, was put on the stand next. His evidence was much in the line of a reiteration of the story of the circumstances attending the murder as given by witnesses preceding him. He was excused after a short cross-examination.

Dr. H. Bert Ellis, who made an examination of the alleged blood stains on the hammer head, testified that after a careful analysis of the substance staining the hammer he was convinced in his own mind that the same was produced by blood. He described minutely the various processes he had used in bringing out the corpuscles of the stains.

"Are you willing to swear that those corpuscles were those of human blood?" asked Attorney Shinn on cross-examination.

"No, sir," was the response.

"Well, doctor," continued the attorney, "is it not a fact that it is impossible to detect the difference between the corpuscles of the blood of a human being and that of certain animals?"

"I believe it is a fact, although some authorities claim that such a difference may be detected."

Mr. Shinn lost no time in following up his advantage, and soon gained the admission from the witness that several other tests on the stains, or a particle of the same, resulted in a negative proof, or, tending then to show that the substance was not blood.

Before concluding the cross-examination, counsel for defense asked that an adjournment be taken, or at least that he be allowed to continue the examination of the witness this morning, as there were a number of questions which he had prepared and wished to bring into court.

As it was then nearly 5 o'clock, the Court allowed the request, and, with the customary admonition to the jury, ordered the recess until 10 o'clock today.

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
LOS ANGELES, May 4, 1893.

The Bureau of Statistics at Washington reports the value of the exports of breadstuffs, cotton, provisions, live stock, petroleum and dairy products from the United States during March as $42,377,468, compared with $60,278,234 in 1891, and $52,495,637 in 1890. For the nine months ending March 31 the exports aggregated $448,539,691, against $608,195,691 in the same nine months of the previous fiscal year, and $501,125,206 in 1890. This falling off of $159,656,000 in the values of American exports in the first nine months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, together with the great increase in the value and volume of imports of foreign merchandise, help explain why the country is now exporting gold, and why so much of the yellow metal has been sent abroad. Foreign bankers continue to assert that the movement will continue, and that a large amount of American gold will have to be sent abroad during the next few months.

A dispatch from Chicago, to the San Francisco Chronicle, of May, 2 says: "California dried fruits are quoted slow and dull; some business is doing all the time, but not in a large way. New York Stocks.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Shortly after the opening the market was thrown into a panic by the announcement of failures of Henry Allen & Co. and B. L. Smyth & Co. The liquidations are enormous, especially such stocks as the firms were supposed to be interested in. Great excitement prevailed as block after block came upon the market. Compared with final quotations yesterday National Cordage preferred broke 18 points to 65; common, 11 to 26; American Sugar, 3 to 87½; preferred, 5 to 87½; Cotton Oil preferred, 2¾ to 73; Whisky, 2¾ to 21½; General Electric, 2 to 87; Rubber, 4½ to 45.

After this enormous shrinkage sufficient buying orders appeared to rally prices considerably. National Cordage preferred rose 5 to 70; others improved 1@3 points.

Butchers' Benevolent Association.

The journeymen butchers of this city have organized a branch of the Journeymen Butchers' Protective and Benevolent Association. This is purely a Pacific Coast organization, with headquarters at San Francisco, whose principal purpose is the taking care of the sick and otherwise disabled, and the payment of a death benefit. The association does not interfere in strikes, its policy being to allow individual members to settle their own differences, if any. The local branch has sixty-two members, and expects the arrival shortly of Ben Davis of San Francisco, Past Grand President, and present Secretary of the Grand Lodge, to install the newly-elected officers.

Backed up by a cash offer—the statements that are made by the proprietors of Doctor Sage's Catarrh Remedy. They say that their medicine will cure, perfectly and permanently, the worst case of Chronic Catarrh in the Head—that not only Catarrh itself, but all the troubles that come from it, and every thing catarrhal in its nature, are cured by the mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties of their remedy.

They can't say any more. Probably every medicine for Catarrh claims as much. But it's one thing to promise a cure—it's a very different thing to perform it. The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy want to prove that they mean what they say. So they make this offer: If they can't cure your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case or of how long standing, they'll pay you $500 in cash. You're sure of the money or a cure. Isn't such a medicine worth trying?

The Assailant of Young Mitchell Pettit Appears in Court

To Answer to a Serious Charge—Justice Lawrence Kept Busy—Permanent Board of Trade Headquarters—Brevities.

Shortly before noon yesterday the native Californian who is accused of having shot young Mitchell Pettit, near La Cañada on Wednesday, as reported in these columns Thursday morning, and his companion, who is said to hail from South America, were ushered into Justice Lawrence's courtroom for preliminary examination. The news of the shooting stirred up considerable excitement in Pasadena, and the courtroom was crowded with interested spectators some minutes before the prisoners made their appearance in charge of Constable Swift.

A "tougher" appearing pair it would be hard to find, if the entire country were included in the search. The head scoundrel is a heavy-set fellow, with a bestial countenance, low forehead and long, black hair. His right cheek is disfigured by a long scar, doubtless received during some drunken brawl. His appearance indicates that there is considerable Indian blood in his veins. His companion is a little fellow, with jet-black beard, curly hair and a copper-colored complexion. Utter ignorance is stamped on his brow as plainly as on that of his villianous associate, only the stamp is of different design.

Neither of the prisoners can speak a word of English, and an interpreter had to be called into service before the examination could proceed. A serious snag was struck at the outset when it came to learning the name of the big prisoner. Up at the Hall ranch, where he has been working for some time past, he was known as Juan Marcus, but on the witness stand he told the interpreter his name was Marcus Dallanline, and such it appears on the complaint. It took some time longer to acquaint the man with the nature of the charge preferred against him—assault with an attempt to commit murder—and another long lapse of time was occupied in a vain attempt to explain to him that he was privileged to have a lawyer to conduct his case. Even the interpreter's Spanish was Greek to him on this subject, and so the Justice, on his own hook, appointed Capt. Yocum to defend the prisoner. The attorney asked for an adjournment before proceeding with the case, which request was granted.

At 1:30 o'clock court reconvened. Justice Lawrence opened the proceedings by stating that he had assumed the responsibility of changing the complaint as originally drawn up, in view of the fact that the interpreter had proven himself incompetent to serve in that capacity. A new interpreter was summoned, and, following the instructions of His Honor, the examination was begun over again. After Marcus had once more told the court his name, and after he had been informed as to the nature of the charge preferred against him, he pleaded not guilty with the utmost sang froid. His companion, Lorenzo Martinez, was next put on the stand and informed that he was held as an accessory to the shooting, which idea he happily happened to grasp in a remarkably short space of time.

At the request of Capt. Yocum, further proceedings were postponed until 10 o'clock this morning, when the prisoners will be called upon to give an account of the shooting.

Further developments substantiate the details of the shooting as printed yesterday. The condition of young Pettit, the victim of the unprovoked assault, was somewhat improved yesterday, and strong hopes are entertained of his recovery.

A QUESTION OF BACK PAY.

The case of A. E. Baldwin vs. J. W. Ritzman, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover some $60 alleged to be due him for working over time while he was employed by the defendant as driver of an ice wagon, was tried yesterday before Justice Lawrence. The plaintiff was represented by J. C. D. Habbick (his maiden case, by the way,) while Capt. Yocum looked after the interests of the defendant, who claims that a full settlement was made with the plaintiff long ago. The justice will make public his decision tomorrow.

PERMANENT QUARTERS FOR THE BOARD OF TRADE.

A meeting of the Board of Trade directors was held yesterday afternoon. President C. H. Keyes presided, and there was a full attendance. After a brief discussion of the matter of the location of permanent quarters for the board, the large hall on the first floor of the Wooster Block on South Fair Oaks avenue was unanimously chosen. It might be added, in this connection, that these quarters were chosen entirely without the solicitation or effort of either Mr. Keyes or Hon. A. G. Throop, who might be considered in the light of interested parties on account of the fact that the Wooster Block is leased by Throop University. The big room was leased for one year, with the privilege of renewing the lease for an equal length of time.

William H. Knight's acceptance of the office of secretary was received, and this gentleman will at once enter upon his duties. It is the intention to keep the new quarters open day and evening. Mr. Knight will be on hand as great a portion of each day as he can conveniently spare from his other business duties, and a stenographer will be in constant attendance. W. H. Hill has agreed to contribute a number of photographs of Pasadena and vicinity to add to the room's attractions, and if possible a permanent exhibit of the products of this section will be arranged. Great good will undoubtedly result from the carrying out of these projects, and it will not be long before the Board of Trade will cut a conspicuous figure in municipal affairs.

"PARIS, THE MAGNIFICENT."

It was necessary to add a couple of hundred chairs to the regulation seating capacity of the Universalist Church Wednesday night, in order to accommodate the crowd of people who flocked to hear H. H. Ragan's illustrated lecture on "Paris, the Magnificent." The lecture was a complimentary one, and was the first of a series of five lectures to be delivered by Mr. Ragan under the auspices of this church.

To say that the evening proved one of pleasure and profit to all present would but feebly express the truth of the matter. For nearly two hours Mr. Ragan held the close attention of the audience, and his fluent speech, highly descriptive all the while and strikingly eloquent at times, together with the magnificent illustrations, delighted all who were fortunate enough to be present. The stereopticon views were reflected on a large canvas, and were especially well worked out. Many of the illustrations were tinted in natural colors, and created a most realistic effect. The comparison between Paris and London was most happily drawn, and the street scenes, principal points of interest and the busy life of the gay French capital were charmingly depicted.

Course tickets for the remaining four lectures are on sale at Suesserott's at $1.50. A great many have already been sold, and there is no doubt but that crowded houses will greet Mr. Ragan's every appearance.

Tonight A Scrap o' Paper will be given at the operahouse by local talent, under the direction of Mr. Kyle. The comedy affords wide scope for the exceptional talents possessed by the members of the cast, who have been chosen with care and who are certain to make the performance a pronounced success. Seats on sale at Suesserott's.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

An Amusing Case Tried Before Justice Crane—News Notes.

An amusing case was on trial Wednesday afternoon before Justice Crane. Two belligerent Britons, E. J. Gill and P. E. Labouchere Hillyer, had each other arrested and bound over to keep the peace. They averred that the dispute arose over a dog, or, rather, a "dawg," but rumor has it that Gill threatened Hillyer with demolition because Labouchere had supplanted Gillie in his mother's affections, thus making the dear boy jealous. Suffice it to say that Gill called Labouchere a "bloomin' cad," whereupon Labouchere threatened to "blaw 'is brines hout." Both parties are well known, and the affair has created much amusement.

Dr. H. B. Lashler and family have returned to Los Angeles to live.

Chris Miller, the plucky pedestrian from the World's Fair city, who is tramping around the borders of the Unite States on a wager of $5000, came in from the south on Monday night and left for Los Olivos. He has stood his 3500 miles' walk from New Orleans very well.

L. E. Penniman and H. J. Battu of San José came in yesterday on their bicycles, over the San Marcos grade, having made the run from the would-be capital in very quick time.

M. and Mme. Baucharel of Paris, France, are at the Raffom House.

W. E. Shepard of Ventura is in town on legal business.

A party of merry girls were out Monday night hanging May baskets, some with complimentary messages, others not so flattering.

Quite a number of people went to the Caledonian picnic, at Casitas, Monday. Harry Roberts, the Santa Barbara sprinter, won easily the 100 yards and one mile foot-races.

The marriage of L. J. Newberry and Miss Emma Marble took place at the residence of J. A. Eaton, Monday evening. They will reside in Santa Barbara.

The steamer Santa Rosa went North Tuesday night. Among the passengers from this port were Mmes. Dr. Knox, H. G. Helmer, L. Hertz, J. Wiggins, Mr. E. Hoffman and wife, Mrs. T. L. Reed and daughter, R. M. Smith and Walter Davis

I. Weill, of the Lompoc Bank, is in town on a business trip.

The quarterly meeting of the Board of Health was held Thursday in the City Hall, Mayor Gaty presiding. Health Officer Dr. F. M. Casal, Dr. J. M. McNulty and City Engineer I. K. Harrington were present. It was decided to select a refuse ground for dumping refuse and to ask the City Council to prohibit refuse from being dumped in any other place in the city limits.

The sanitation of the city was carefully looked into and reported on, and a general clean-up recommended, it being decided to have a garbage wagon go around and gather up kitchen refuse and offal. A resolution was adopted whereby all doctors are to be required to observe the law requiring them to give a monthly statement to the city of all births and deaths coming under their practice.

Health Officer Casal's report is interesting reading in parts. He says: "For the five years ending December, 1892, there were nine suicides in Santa Barbara. Santa Barbara's mortality from suicide is thirty per 100,000 per annum, a higher rate than obtains almost anywhere except in San Francisco and in Saxony, the center of the great suicidigenous area of Europe. Among barbarous peoples, suicide is rare, and so the frequency of suicide is somewhat the measure of advancement in civilization; by this test we rank high." The question is open for discussion.

It was reported that during the month of January, 1893, there were six deaths; February, nine; March, ten, and April, four, a total of twenty-nine. For the corresponding four months in 1892, there was a mortality of sixty-three. Perhaps some conclusion can be drawn from these figures also.

Judge Cope yesterday dismissed the Summerland libel case against H. P. Allen, recently appointed postmaster at that place. The District Attorney neglected to file the information within the prescribed thirty days, hence the dismissal. H. L. Williams filed another complaint against Allen on the same charge, which was dismissed on Wednesday afternoon by Judge Cope. The Williams faction in Summerland made desperate efforts to have a charge of criminal libel stick against Allen, to be used as a reason why his appointment should be revoked.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

A Man from the Desert Who Wants an Office Badly.

He is Willing to Serve Either as Supervisor or Justice of the Peace—Meeting of the Redlands Trustees.

SAN BERNARDINO.

J. A. Owens of Daggett is trying to figure out a scheme by which he may be made one of the County Supervisors of San Bernardino county. By the formation of Riverside county one of the districts has been removed from San Bernardino county, making it necessary to redistrict the county. He wishes the Supervisors to divide the desert district and has a petition in circulation for signatures, asking the Governor to appoint him Supervisor from the district which he proposes having made. A very amusing circumstance in connection with this is the fact that Mr. Owen has now in the hands of the County Supervisors a petition for the appointment as Justice of the Peace for his precinct, and has asked that the appointment of the justice for that precinct be delayed until a hearing and reply on the supervisorial question is secured.

IT WAS MURDER.

On Wednesday evening the coroner's jury in the case of Jesus Lucerro, held its inquest, and after having examined a number of witnesses, returned a verdict to the effect that deceased was murdered by Vincente Guilvardie. Lucerro was about 30 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches tall, and weighed about one hundred and sixty-five pounds. The witnesses examined were Mexicans, and refused to tell much of the affair.

The post mortem examination of Lucerro showed that the ball had pierced his heart and liver, and lodged in his intestines. Yet he lived for thirteen hours after receiving the wound, and in the meantime was carried five miles by wagon and twelve miles by train to get him into the County Hospital.

SAN BERNARDINO BREVITIES.

A party of sixteen spent Wednesday at Squirrel Inn.

Miss Ollie Byron has started East for an extensive visit.

The San Bernardino Turnverein will picnic at Raynor's Grove on Sunday.

Mrs. O'Campo of Ritchie Cañon was in the city on Thursday to see the Board of Supervisors. While waiting she was stricken with an attack of an old heart trouble, and for a time it was thought she had expired. She was revived and removed to the County Hospital.

Pedro Arembel, the French sheep herder arrested some time ago for driving sheep over one of the mountain roads in a flock of more than 100, was found guilty upon trial in the Justice Court and fined $50. A. B. Paris, attorney for the defendant, gave notice of an appeal, as he claims that the ordinance is unconstitutional, as it discriminates against the property of sheepmen.

REDLANDS.

At the meeting of the city fathers on Wednesday night the bids were opened for the caring for the sewage upon the sewage farm. N. C. Herron offered to do the work for $375 for the first month and $225 for each succeeding month. A. S. Taylor bid to take care of it for $1900 per annum. These prices seem pretty steep, as in some places a bonus is received by the city for the privilege of using the sewage. No doubt such will be the case here as soon as the proper method of handling the sewage is learned and its value in the growing of vegetables demonstrated to the satisfaction of the experimenters.

E. G. Judson and wife deeded to the city a right-of-way through certain property for the storm water ditch,

An application was received and filed made by Cass Gaylord, asking for the appointment of inspector of storm-water ditch work,

Word has reached here that Vincente Guilyardie, who murdered Jesus Lucerro in Mill Creek Cañon on Thursday morning for 50 cents, returned to the camp there and got something to eat and then disappeared into the mountains. The Mexicans in camp did not attempt to apprehend the murderer, either because they feared him or from clannishness.

Guests are enjoying the perfect weather. Carriage parties, horseback parties, rowing and sailing parties, surf parties and sand parties serve to fill the hours of every day pleasantly. A number who have come to this island resort for health are growing strong and rosy through out-of-door living.

The members of Sig. Dion Romandy's orchestra are taking a month-of-May vacation, and two mandolin players are furnishing excellent dinner and evening music for the hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davis Boyd, who are on a pleasure jaunt from San Rafael through Southern California, reached here Tuesday, after outings at Santa Barbara and other points along the way.

San Francisco has contributed largely to the quota of the hotel during the week. A. B. Henderson of the Examiner and wife, E. Sanford Taylor of California street and wife, J. G. Martin and wife and D. A. Hulse and wife have been among those exchanging the gayeties of the Golden Gate for the diversions of the Silver Gate city.

Mrs. M. M. Soule of Alameda, widow of the late Dr. Soule of San Francisco, has gone with her son, W. F. Soule, to La Jolla for a little variety. Mr. Soule was much benefited by his stay here.

Among New York society people who have recently been stopping at the hotel, Mr. and Mrs. William Moir and Miss Seymour are prominent. Also Mrs. James, Miss Tillotson and Mr. Beach.

Pittsburgh, Pa., is represented by a large delegation, all of whom arrived this week.

Among Chicago people of note who have lately been entertained may be mentioned H. H. Honore, Jr., brother of Mrs. Potter Palmer, with Mrs. Honore and Miss Jones. Mrs. Honore and Miss Jones are daughters of J. Russell Jones, one of Chicago's capitalists.

A considerable exodus has already set in toward Chicago. "Good-bys" are the order of the day, and the World's Fair patrons seem likely to largely outnumber the stay-at-homes.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY.

Fire in the Rubidoux Club—Election Returns Coming in Slowly.

Shortly after 6 o'clock on Thursday morning a woman in the Rubidoux Block discovered that there was smoke issuing from the rooms of the Rubidoux Club. A. A. Wood, who rooms in the building was the first to be informed, and entering the rooms found the interior of the small storeroom of the club all ablaze. By a prompt use of the fire hose in the hall the fire was easily extinguished and with but a slight loss, fully covered by insurance. The cause of the fire is not known. Mr. Wood was the last to leave the rooms the night before, and everything was all right at that time, and no one had yet been in the rooms that morning. The alarm was turned in and the fire department responded, but the fire was out before it arrived upon the scene.

ELECTION RETURNS.

The vote of Riverside county is arriving slowly from remote precincts, but enough have reported to confirm the statement that the full non-partisan ticket is elected. It appears, however, that F. W. Swope, candidate for Sheriff, will not have much, if any, over 200 majority over Morgan. The strength of the opposition to the county, and to the county seat at Riverside, for both of which propositions Swope was an ardent advocate, were thrown against him, and Democrat and Prohibition party prejudice were invoked to defeat him. The trouble at El Casco, where a new election board took charge, is not yet settled.

RIVERSIDE BREVITIES.

Francisco Estudillo, the new Indian Agent, is at the Rowell.

The W.C.T.U. held a social at the residence of Dr. Brown, East Riverside, on Thursday afternoon.

An excursion will be run from this city to Hemet and San Jacinto, Riverside county, on Saturday.

There were services at the Catholic Church Thursday evening, and there will be services each Thursday evening of this month.

All Wednesday afternoon and until midnight the cannon sent forth its booms from Mt. Rubidoux in celebration of the big vote for Riverside and the county seat at Riverside.

The Prodigal Father was presented at the Loring to a good audience, assembled there to see Carmencita dance. The dancing, which occurs between the second and third acts of the comedy, was a disappointment to many, but her graceful and novel movements and her beauty elicited great applause.

The undertaking, by the Riverside Wheelmen, to provide Riverside with some good lectures is deserving of commendation. Nye and Burbank were brought here by the wheelmen, and now H. H. Ragan is giving a series of illustrated lectures under their auspices. On Friday evening he will show "London, Old and New."

Joseph L. Maude, County Surveyor of San Bernardino County, has removed from this city to San Bernardino, in order that he may comply with the law to the letter, by living within the county of which he is an officer. The formation of Riverside county put him out of the county for which he was elected Surveyor.

On Tuesday evening the last meeting of the Musical and Literatry Club was held at the residence of William L. Peters, and it was the most enjoyable one of the season. A novel and most interesting feature of the evening's exercises was a list of recitations in costume, in which more than a score participated. Each represented some well known literary work and recited selections from it. Thus Mr. Peters represented "A Tramp Abroad;" Miss Vaughn, "Lucile;" Miss Fuller, "Ramona;" Miss Copley, "A Century of Dishonor," etc.

UNPARALLELED RECORD.

Annual Distribution of Surplus in Life Insurance Companies.

A statement compiled by the Boston Standard shows the results produced by the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of New Jersey, the leading "annual distribution" company, on one hand and the New York Life and the Equitable Life, the two "original tontine" companies, on the other hand, since organization:

It shows that, from $154,000,000 less premiums than the New York Life, the Mutual Benefit has saved $24,000,000 more of its interest receipts than the New York Life; that, from $182,000,000 less premiums than the Equitable, the Mutual Benefit has saved $29,000,000 more of its interest receipts than the Equitable; that, from $483,000,000 less premiums than both companies, the Mutual Benefit has saved over five times as much of its interest receipts above expenses for policyholders as the New York Life and Equitable combined, by excess of payments to members plus assets, over premiums received. The insurance reports also show that while the Mutual Benefit saved $1,294,557 of its interest receipts above expenses in 1892, the total expenses of the New York Life and Equitable exceeded their combined interest receipts by over $3,000,000 in 1892.

Under its non-forfeiture and extension system the Mutual Benefit guarantees a dollar's worth of insurance for every dollar of premium paid. For example of lapsed policies paid in full, policy No. 13,090, on the life of Mr. Albert H. Hovey of Los Angeles, Cal., was issued in 1859 for $2500. Mr. Hovey died in June, 1890, more than ten years after the lapse of the policy, which, however, was promptly paid in full ($2500) by the Mutual Benefit.

POMONA.

The City Council and the Salvation Army—The Saloon Question.

Pomona's newly-elected City Council is starting off well. It is determined to have a reputation for morality and virtue, and it is succeeding well. As was noted in THE TIMES, the Salvation Army has caused of late the members of the Council to lay awake nights, and muse on the fact that the local corps, which is composed entirely of ladies, would beat the drum on the streets. Complaints come in, and the Council, instead of passing any stringent resolutions, decided to call on the ladies and see what could be done. Accordingly, yesterday (Wednesday) morning the Council started for the army barracks. The City Marshal and City Attorney headed the procession, and in a body they all marched into the presence of the army bosses. The ladies, not being accustomed to callers, and especially an august and handsome body of men like the members of Pomona's City Council, were quite abashed. Mayor Gallup has, on several occasions, distinguished himself as a ladies' man. Some of his enemies have even intimated that he was an old bachelor. It was decided he should act as spokesman, and he did so. He assured the ladies that the Council had in every way tried to help them along. The Council had kept a gas lamp burning in front of their barracks, had restrained the hoodlums, and much good was being done by their joint efforts. He stated that beating the drum endangered life and property, and, while he had no objection to their beating the tom-toms to their heart's content while at their barracks, it would not do on the street. The ladies said they would take the matter under consideration. A drum was necessary to their parade, and it is probable they will keep it up.

As a matter of fact, if the lassies know what is good for them they will discontinue the use of the drum. The Council has aided them in many ways, and without its aid the corps will have to leave, as it has done several times before.

As an evidence of how the circulation has increased at the public library, it may be stated that during April, 1892, there were only 485 members, while the month just past there were 845. It is a good institution, and is appreciated by the public. It only costs $1 to become a subscriber to the circulating department.

No applications will be made for saloons until the ordinance has been passed and published by law. The applications will have to be made in writing, and to conform with the printed ordinance.

The following open letter explains itself. The ladies of the city have been much exercised over some parts of the new high-license ordinance, and the letter calls for some explanation from the Council. The letter is as follows:

An open letter to the City Council of Pomona

—SIRS: A few "females" of the genus homo desire to be informed why, in your opinion, the unfortunate, or fortunate, accident of sex renders them unfit to receive consideration from the "license of the business specified in section 1" of the proposed new liquor ordinance, and to be placed in the category of Indians, minors, or habitual drunkards, in your section 6 of said ordinance?

Also, to be be informed why complaints of violation of said ordinance can be made by only "electors" of the city, as in section 8? Is this another thrust at the sex of the sufferers of the new regime to be undertaken in our community? And, finally also, why it is deemed necessary that a day's notice be given to suspected violators of the laws before "investigation into their conduct," also in section 8?

Who would ever be found guilty after a day's notice had been served on him that he was to be investigated?

An early reply will be anticipated, to enlighten the ignorance of

"SOME FEMALES."

Southern California Convention in Session at Orange.

Election of Officers for the Ensuing Year—Meeting of the Woman's Foreign and Home Missionary Society.

The Southern California Baptist Convention, in session at orange, is largely attended by pastors and delegates from all churches in this part of the State.

Preceding the convention proper, the dedication services of the new Baptist Church at Orange were held on Wednesday evening. The building has just been completed, and is a model church edifice in all respects. It has a seating capacity of 300, including the Sunday-school room. There is also a pastor's study, primary classroom, storeroom and baptistry. It will be seated with opera chairs, which have not arrived yet. The total cost is about $3000, of which $2500 has been raised. Of the remainder about $300 was pledged at the dedication services through the efforts of Rev. W. W. Tinker of Los Angeles.

The dedication sermon was preached by Rev. A. E. Knapp of San Diego, from Isaiah ii, 1-5.

The services were presided over by the pastor, Rev. W. de R. Pos, assisted Rev. A. A. Holden of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. C. E. Harris of Pasadena, and Rev. W. W. Tinker of Los Angeles. Excellent music was furnished by the choir, the fine solo singing of Mrs. Wright Gardner deserving special mention.

OPENING SESSION.

The first session of the Baptist Convention of Southern California was held Thursday morning, beginning at 10:30, presided over by Rev. A. A. Grant of Santa Barbara.

An address of welcome, filled with good points, was presented by Rev. W. de R. Pos, pastor of the Orange Baptist Church, to which a brief response was made by the president of the convention.

A scripture lesson was read by Rev. C. E. Winbigler of Riverside. The annual sermon was then delivered by Rev. A. Grant of Santa Barbara.

He presented very forcibly the duty of Christians, individually and as churches, to help those who are less fortunate than themselves.

On motion, Mr. Grant was requested to present the manuscript of his sermon to the editor of the Pacific Baptist for publication.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session began at 1:30 o'clock with a devotional service conducted by Rev. W. W. Tinker, following which the Committee on Arrangements presented a report in favor of adopting the outline programme already prepared for the day's exercises. Adopted.

Upon the recommendation of the Nominating Committee, the following officers were chosen for the next year: President, Rev. Charles Winbigler of Riverside; first vice-president, Rev. A. E. Knapp of San Diego; second vice-president, Prof. Calvin Esterly of Pomona; secretary, Rev. C. E. Harris of Pasadena; statistical secretary, Rev. G. E. Dye of Santa Ana; treasurer, H. D. Fowler of Duarte; auditor, F. J. Cressey of Los Angeles; board of directors, S. C. Annable, A. W. Rider, Dr. Palmer, U. S. Lemon, A. Grant, D. W. Lewis, C. E. Winbigler, C. E. Harris, Mrs. V. A. Henry, A. P. Brown, George E. Dye.

On motion, the board of directors were instructed to proceed to secure the legal incorporation of this body.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The convention then took a recess to give an opportunity for the annual session of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, which was presided over by Mrs. Winbigler. After devotional exercises, conducted by Mrs. V. A. Henry, Mrs. Jackson presented the annual report, the principal part of which was an account of the work done during the past year by Miss Emma L. Miller, home missionary of the society. Encouraging progress has been made in many respects. Total contributions received were $590.55; gifts of goods in addition, $44.25. In the past seven months 37 churches were visited, 44 women's meetings were held, 46 children's meetings, 20 new societies formed, 200 letters written and a large amount of literature distributed. The committee recommends raising $700 the coming year.

Miss Emma L. Miller then gave an address on the subject of "Work Among the Scandinavians," full of information in regard to these people. Her address included an interesting exercise, in which she was assisted by twelve young ladies.

After singing, the foreign missionary work was represented in an address of great interest by Miss Ella Miller, who spoke of the work being carried on in Corea and Central China, and the extreme courage and remarkable faith displayed by missionaries and native converts in those countries. After taking a collection the service closed by prayer by Rev. A. J. Frost.

The convention was then called to order and the remainder of the afternoon session was devoted to business.

FREE UNTIL JUNE 1.

To establish a wide reputation The Galen Institute will render their services until June 1 free of charge. The only favor they ask is a recommendation after a cure has been effected. From their experience in the hospitals of Europe and America, their knowledge of the rapid advancements that have been made in the last few years, in diagnosing and treating diseases, can tell the probability of a cure in all cases of ear, skin, liver and kidney diseases, female complaints, nasal catarrh, dyspepsia, rheumatism and nervous debility. They will not take any case to treat unless there is a certainty of making a complete cure. Permanently located at 305½ South Spring street, Los Angeles, in December, 1892. Open every day excepting Mondays.

A Superb 7 Per Cent. Gold Bond Investment.

The second instalment of the first mortgage 7 per cent. gold bonds of the Pasadena and Mt. Wilson Railway Company is now ready for subscription in sums to suit purchasers at par, giving the buyer valuable collateral privilege, which will greatly enhance the value of their holdings.

Any of these bonds, if desired, will be redeemed at par and interest, upon one month's notice after the time agreed upon at time of sale, thus giving the holder a liberal interest for the use of money, either for a short time or for the full term of the bonds. It is believed that with the small amount of bonds that will be issued in proportion to the cost and value of the property owned by the company, and the large prospective revenue of the road, that both stock and bonds will soon bring a premium in the open market.

Those wishing to investigate with a view to purchasing bonds will, by appointment, be shown over the road and all desired information furnished.

The bonds can be purchased from all the banks in Pasadena—First National Bank, Pasadena National Bank, and San Gabriel Valley Bank. And in Los Angeles, from the Citizens' Bank and the Los Angeles Safe Deposit and Trust Company, 313 South Spring street; also at the company's office, Grand Operahouse Block, Pasadena.

Marketable notes and securities taken in exchange at their value. Thirty days will be given to purchasers for settlement. Among the purchasers of these bonds are the following: Charles H. Frost, Hon. A. S. Throop, Pasadena; T. D. Stimson, T. W. Brotherton, Los Angeles; F. H. Vallette, J. D. Lincoln, Mrs. E. T. M. Lincoln, H. M. Singer, Col. C. G. Green, Andrew McNally, A. C. Armstrong, D. Galbraith, James Smith, J. W. Hugus, San Gabriel Valley Bank, G. Roscoe Thomas, C. W. Brown, T. S. C. Lowe, Mrs. L. A. Lowe, Pasadena; Lowe Emerson, Cincinnati, O.; A. P. West, William H. Knight, Los Angeles; Mrs. E. T. Williams, W. H. Simmons, Pasadena; Mrs. Martha Vaughan, Chicago.

All bonds settled for before May 30 will have July coupons on, thus giving the purchaser equal to 3 per cent. discount.

The first issue was so promptly taken it is believed that this issue—being the last that will carry special advantages—will all be taken within a few days. To a party with large capital an unusually good business opening will be presented.

For more complete information and particulars, call on or addres T. S. C. Lowe, President Pasadena and Mt. Wilson Railway Company, Grand Operahouse Block, Pasadena, Cal.
